Florida slave labor camp discovered by policemen

DRIVER CITED — Sheriff's deputies cited Larry D. Funk, 19, Rt. 4, for speed excessive for road conditions Friday morning after he lost control of his car and crashed into a utility pole on Parrott Station Road, about a mile west of Ohio 41. The car skinned two trees and was off the pavement for 140 feet before clipping off the power pole. Electricity in the area was out a short time due to the 7:10 a.m. mishap. Captive workers are freed

HOMESTEAD, Fla. (AP) — "If he catch you, he'll beat you and bring you back," migrant worker Charles Bryant said of what happened to anyone who tried to escape the work gang of his boss.

Bryant, 41, one of 27 workers freed by police Thursday from what was described as a slave labor camp, said his boss "had an order that you couldn't go anywhere."

Joe Williams, 55, told police a fellow laborer who tried to escape was beaten until "he just held his head and cried like a baby."

Police reported that many of the migrants at the camp near here said Joe L. Brown and Lafayette Matthew held the traveling work crew by force, threats and indebtedness for as long as four years.

A Dade County sheriff's detective said the workers "were being held against their will and were being held as slaves."

Brown, 35, and Matthew, 27, were charged with false imprisonment and conspiracy to commit a felony.

Fred Diaz of the county Migrant Health Clinic, said the men were in generally poor health. "There is a suspicion of tuberculosis with some, others have slight pneumonia, liver disorders, heart conditions. Most are malnourished. Some have bloody abcesses," he said.

Police said they went to the camp to investigate an unrelated assault and told the workers to stay around because they would be needed as witnesses.

Officers moved the laborers to a nearby hotel after Robert Washington told them "You don't have to worry about us staying here. We can't leave."

James Ralph, 45, said he was recruited by Brown four years ago and ever since he has been in debt to his boss.

"Every week I'd be owing him $100, $200," said Ralph. "I don't know what I owed him for. That's what he had on the books."

The workers range in age from 22 to 65 and included 26 men and one woman. Police said they came from a number of southern states and traveled from state to state in a bus owned by Brown. Police said Brown and Matthew and all but one of the workers are black.

Police said Brown was carrying $43,785 in small bills in a blue tape-cassette box that he took from his 1973 Cadillac.

Brown was freed on $50,000 bond. Matthews remained in jail.

City to launch clean-up campaign

A clean-up campaign, aimed at beautifying the city and creating an "atmosphere for progress," will be inaugurated Monday, according to City Manager Dan Wolford.

The campaign is partially in response to calls for action toward making Washington C.H. a cleaner city by members of City Council.

Starting Monday, the campaign will be in its voluntary phase. "From Monday through March 31, we are asking all residents and businesses to clean up voluntarily," Wolford said Friday. He said property owners would not be presecuted during this grace period.

During this two-week period, policemen and other city employes will be surveying the city and filing reports on unsightly areas in Washington C.H. "We'll be building a complete file on the subject," said Wolford. "After March 31, the city will be involved pretty heavily" in persuading property owners to eliminate junk, trash and refuse that blemishes the city.

Violators of city refuse ordinances who haven't cleaned up their property after March 31 will be subject to prosecution.

VC free 32 POWs

CLARK AIR BASE, Philippines (AP) — The Viet Cong released 32 more American prisoners of war today, and the senior officer in the group thanked President Nixon for ordering the bombing of Hanoi and Haiphong last December.

Air Force Col. Theodore W. Guy of Tucson, Ariz., told a welcoming crowd at Clark Air Base he has no doubts that the heavy bombing of North Vietnam's two main cities helped hasten the end of the war.

"We are grateful that we had a President that made those decisions," said Guy, 43. He was captured when his Phantom fighter-bomber was downed during a strike mission over Laos on March 22, 1968.

"Dignity, honor and love of country are three things that most of us treasured and thought of for many years," Guy said. "On behalf of the men in this group, I would like to thank the President of the United States, Mr. Nixon, for bringing us home with this dignity and honor."

His words were in sharp contrast to antiwar and antimilitary statements attributed to a dozen of the men in the group by Communist broadcasts since 1968. However, all came off the plane smartly, saluted the colors and were cheered by the crowd.

A U.S. Air Force hospital plane brought Guy, 26 other military prisoners and five civilians from Hanoi. At Clark Air Base they joined 108 POWs released by North Vietnam on Wednesday and two Vietnam war fliers freed by Communist China Thursday.

The men freed Wednesday will begin leaving for the United States Saturday, and most of the 142 freed this week are expected to be home early next week.

Others freed today included the POW held longest in Vietnam, Maj. Floyd J. Thompson, 39, of Hudson, Mass., who was captured on March 26, 1964, and Philip W. Manhard, 51, of the State Department, the senior U.S. civilian captured during the war.

The latest returnees brought the total number of Americans released by the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong since the Vietnam cease-fire Jan. 28 to 439. Another 140 servicemen and seven civilians in Communist hands are to be freed by March 28, the 60-day deadline set by the peace agreement.

Solons shy from Nixon challenge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Judiciary Committee members are showing no disposition to take President Nixon to court for refusing to let his official lawyer testify on the nomination of L. Patrick Gray III to be FBI director.

"The committee has other action it can take," said Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., a member of the panel.

He said, for example, that the committee could simply tell Nixon it would not act on Gray's nomination unless White House Counsel John W. Dean III appears for questioning.

Nixon said Thursday he does not believe the committee would hold Gray "hostage," but the members appear closely divided. The issue may come to a vote next week.

Ervin not only is a Judiciary Committee member but chairman of a committee created by the Senate to investigate the Watergate bugging and other alleged political espionage and sabotage in last year's presidential election.

All indications are that if an attempt is made to compel Dean's testimony, it will be done by Ervin's committee in the Watergate investigation, rather than by the Judiciary Committee in its consideration of Gray's nomination.

"If we are going to have this confrontation, I'd rather face it with the select committee," Ervin said. Other senators also said Ervin's committee would be the preferred battleground.

At a news conference Thursday, Nixon said he would not allow Dean to testify at any congressional hearing and invited a Supreme Court test of his stand on executive privilege.

"If the Senate feels they want a court test, we would welcome it," he said.

Although Dean, at the President's direction, declined the Judiciary Committee's invitation to testify on Gray's nomination, he offered to answer relevant questions submitted in writing.

The only way the committee could force a court test would be to subpoena Dean and then, if he refused to appear, seek to have the Senate cite him for contempt.

This is just what Ervin said he proposes to do if Nixon refuses to let Dean testify at the forthcoming Watergate investigation. Ervin said Dean would be "a very relevant witness" at his committee's hearings.

"If we get any information that any White House aide has any knowledge relevant to this investigation," Ervin said, "I will certainly recommend to the committee he be subpoenaed and if he fails to appear or refuses to give information after appearing, I will recommend to the Senate he be judged in contempt of Congress."

Ohio electric utility firms given deadline on pollution

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— The Ohio Environmental Protection Agency has announced plans to bring the state's major electrical utility plants into compliance with emission standards by July, 1975.

State EPA Director Ira Whitman also revealed at a news conference in Cleveland Thursday that the state may bring criminal charges against the Republic Steel Corp. Republic Steel officials had no immediate response to Whitman's charge that the firm failed to initiate required cutbacks during an air pollution alert in Cleveland two weeks ago.

Whitman said the "compliance schedules" were issued to 14 electric plants, representative of the state's seven major utility groups, in order to force a confrontation on the utilities' argument that the standards are technologically impossible to comply with.

In part, the problem was complicated by the plants' using high-sulfur Ohio coal as fuel, Whitman said, although he said the state EPA was not convinced the requirements could not be met.

He admitted that if the companies demonstrate during the next six months that the standards are indeed out of reach that the state would seek other answers, possibly to include asking the federal government to waive the air standards in Ohio.

"The wisdom of our decisions can be challenged, but the impossible cannot be made possible," he conceded. But he added: "We will push to the wall to achieve the possible."

Whitman took a hard line on the Repubic Steel case, insisting that the state EPA was "not totally satisfied with the response of Republic Steel during the recent alert. In addition, it is my understanding that they never submitted" a contingency plan due Aug. 15, 1972.

The electrical plants issued compliance schedules include four of Cleveland Electrical Illuminating Co., three of Ohio Edison, three of American Electric Power, and one apiece from Dayton Power & Light, Columbus & Southern Ohio, Cincinnati Gas and Electric and Toledo Edison.

Specifically, the plants were CEI's Ashtabula, Lake Shore, Avon Lake and Eastlake plants; CG&E's Miami Fort; OE's Sammis, Toronto and R. E. Berger; TE's Bay Shore; AEP's Tidd, Cardinal and Philo; C&SO's Conesville, and DP&L's Frank M. Tait.

U.S. prepares Peking office

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will send an advance team to Peking within two to three weeks to prepare for the May 1 opening of a liaison office headed by senior diplomat David K.E. Bruce.

The five-man team, headed by Chinese-speaking experts, will include communications and building specialists who will prepare the quarters of the first American diplomatic outpost on the Chinese mainland.

President Nixon announced the latest appointment for Bruce, 75, a former ambassador to Britain, Germany, France and the Vietnam peace talks in Paris, at a news conference Thursday.

"I thought it was very important to appoint a man of great stature to this position. The Chinese accepted that view themselves, and we expect soon to hear from them as to the appointment of the man they will have as his opposite number here in Washington."

The President also stressed he regards the opening of a liaison office as "the beginning, we trust, of a longer journey—a journey in which we will have our differences, but one in which the most populous nation of the world and the United States of America can work together, where their interests coincide, for the cause of peace and better relations in the Pacific and in the world."

Speculation on whom China might appoint to the Washington post centered on Chiao K'uan-hua, the vice foreign minister and a man close to Premier Chou En-lai; Chang Wen-chin, assistant foreign minister and an expert on American and European affairs, and Marshal Yeh Chiehying, acting minister of defense.

BULLETIN

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A flash flood watch was announced today for southern Ohio to be in effect until 10 a.m. Saturday, the National Weather Service said.

Rain ahead of a developing storm was expected to move north into southwestern Ohio later today and continue spreading over most of the state, the agency said. Some locally heavy rains were expected over Ohio later today and tonight which may present a threat for flooding.

The NWS said the Scioto River would crest at Prospect tonight at 9½ feet, about one-half foot below flood stage.

The Scioto at Circleville was expected to crest at 16 feet early Saturday—2 feet above flood stage.

Senate bill attacks late health payments

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Medical care providers waiting months for millions owed them by the state could hold back their taxes under a bill now pending in the Ohio Senate.

Sen. Harry L. Armstrong, R-17 Logan, introduced the bill Thursday on behalf of doctors, hospitals, dentists, pharmacists, and others owed by the state for helping the medically indigent under the federal Medicaid program.

The Welfare Department is several months behind on payments totaling more than $30 million as a result of clerical problems and the conversion in the department to a new computer system. The department says it is now catching up.

Under Armstrong's bill, the providers could deduct amounts owed them from any state tax they pay which goes into the state's general fund—primarily the income tax.

The veteran senator said he doesn't know about the department's clerical problems, but that he does know one hospital "that's going broke."

He said the small hospital in southern Ohio is owed $100,000 by the state. "There are doctors and dentists in the same position. They need to be paid," Armstrong said.

His bill was among 25 introduced in the Senate and House before the lawmakers adjourned floor sessions until next Tuesday. The House plans a floor vote that day on bills adding one judge each to the Lorain and Elyria Municipal Courts, and to provide four-year terms for presidents of municipal councils.

House Speaker A.G. Lancione, D-99 Bellaire, announced that the House will vote March 28 on the highly-publicized and controversial women's equal rights amendment. He had indicated earlier that it would be brought up next week.

Rep. Michael P. Stinziano, D-30 Columbus, the main sponsor, announced plans for the House debate on the issue to be carried live by Ohio State University's WOSU radio station. The freshman lawmaker said the broadcast, which could last four or five hours, is "unprecedented" in Ohio legislative history.

Meanwhile, opponents of the proposed constitutional amendment to prohibit discrimination on the basis of sex, started a campaign for its defeat in the House.

Rep. Thomas P. Gilmartin, D-51 Youngstown, issued a statement saying that his "no" vote on the proposal will "not be a megative vote, it is a very positive vote." Gilmartin, who voted against the amendment in the State Government Committee, added:

"The proponents have failed to show me how this will benefit the average housewife, who, in my estimation, is the very heart and key to our society."

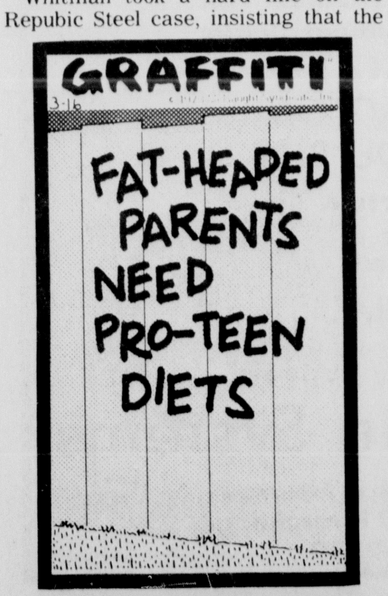

Three bills were up for floor action Thursday, and all passed in their respective chambers. The Senate voted 30-1 to allow members of local school boards to also serve on boards of joint vocational school districts.

Approved by lopsided margins in the House were measures to lift a $2,000 limit on township cemetery levies and to exempt certain medical supplies and accessories from the state sales tax.

Rep. Joseph P. Tulley, R-59 Mentor, introduced a bill allowing Ohioans to purchase $50 worth of clothing a year without paying the state sales tax. He said clothing is the last of the necessities that is not exempt from the tax and that his bill would partially exempt it.

"The sales tax law presently exempts food, shelter, utilities, medical care, and prescriptions from the sales tax, but clothing has remained taxable," he said. Tulley said his measure would "give our less fortunate citizens a very real tax break."

Other new House bills would provide for the acquisition of Lake Erie shore lands, for the management of Lake Erie shore lands, and for maintenance by the state of expressways inside municipal limits.

Weather

A flash flood watch is in effect for the southeast and east central counties until 10 a.m. Saturday. Rain likely tonight, possibly heavy at times. Lows tonight in the upper 30s to the mid 40s. Rain changing to showers Saturday with a chance of flurries north, highs in the mid 40s to the mid 50s.

Scali lashes Cuban attack on U.S. policy in Panama

PANAMA (AP) — U.S. Ambassador John Scali took a relaxed attitude Thursday night toward criticism of the United States by his Panamian hosts, but lashed back at a Cuban attack during the special U.N. Security Council meeting being held in Panama.

Foreign Minister Raul Roa of Cuba told the council the United States aspires to maintain "Green Beret factories" in the Panama Canal Zone. He characterized the United States as a nation with "clawing and perfidious appetites" around the world.

"The highest aspiration of the Panamanian people was always that of a canal for humanity and not for an acquatic monoply, a canal flanked by shipyards and factories, not by military bases and Green Beret factories," Roa declared.

Using his right of reply, Scali, in his debut before the council, called the Cuban "a self appointed spokesman of a people whose condition must arouse pity in us all.

"His accusations are so wild and reckless that they are unworthy of reply," President Nixon's new chief delegate to the U.N. said.

Scali's remarks were in marked contrast to his comments to newsmen on the welcoming speech earlier by Panama's strongman, Brig. Gen. Omar Torrijos. Setting the theme for the week-long council meeting, the first ever held in Latin America, the general accused the United States of maintaining a colonialist enclave in the heart of Panama.

"We ask the moral support of the world here present in this fight which is now reaching the limits of the patience of our people," Torrijos declared.

Scali said he was a "bit surprised" by the sharpness of the general's words.

"We hope he urges his people to cool it," he added. "The patience of his people is directly related to what he says."

Peru's foreign minister, Brig. Gen. Miguel Angel de la Flor, also joined in the attack on the United States. He blamed it for social and economic "frustrations" in Latin America and accused it of economic aggression in the region.

Nixon ponders U.S. action against Viet red infiltration

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon could order a range of military actions short of renewed bombing of North Vietnam and still back up his statement that he will not stand for major Communist infiltration of South Vietnam.

In taking a hard line Thursday, Nixon gave no hint of what move he might make if his warning against continued violation of the cease-fire agreement is ignored by Hanoi.

The President did not foreclose the possibility of sending U.S. bombers back over the North, but there are a number of important deterrents to this.

For one thing, the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong could hold back the remaining U.S. war prisoners as hostages.

For another, the North Vietnamese have strengthened their anti-aircraft defenses since the Jan. 27 cease-fire and any new U.S. raids almost certainly would cost the United States more planes and fresh casualties, including additional POWs.

The political consequences of a renewed war with North Vietnam are incalculable. But it would be logical to expect a severe reaction from the nation and the Congress, which have come to believe the long and costly Indochina war is over for the United States.

Pentagon officials stressed what one of them called "practical options" for military action without bombing North Vietnam again.

U.S. war planes could be unleashed once more to strike at the Ho Chi Minh trail, the main infiltration network running through southern Laos toward South Vietnam. American jets have been withheld from bombing the trail since late February.

American bombers also could be ordered to strike at the Laotian end of the key passes leading out of North Vietnam into the Ho Chi Minh trail.

Also, American air power could be sent once more against Communist targets in South Vietnam, including the region just below the DMZ where the North Vietnamese are reported to have crossed with reinforcements and supplies since the cease-fire, which banned such movements.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Rain and possible rising water levels in western Lake Erie were in the Ohio weather picture as described today by the National Weather Service. It also noted cooler weather is on the way.

The Ohio weather story:

Cloudiness increased across Ohio during the night and a few showers have begun to spread into the southern counties. An intensifying storm centered over Mississippi is expected to move to the northeast and reach the upper Ohio Valley by this evening. This system will cause rain that could become heavy at times to spread across all of Ohio by early afternoon.

A few thundershowers are also possible in the south today and tonight. As the storm center approaches the state winds will increase from the east and northeast. This may cause water levels to rise in western Lake Erie this afternoon and tonight and poses a threat of flooding along the lake.

By 6 a.m. Friday temperatures around the state ranged from the low 40s in the northeast to the mid 50s along the Ohio River. Highs today will be restricted somewhat by a heavy cloud cover and by rain. High readings are forecast to reach the mid 50s to lower 60s this afternoon.

Cooler weather is on the way and lows tonight will probably sink into the upper 30s to mid 40s with rain continuing tonight and gradually tapering off to showers Saturday.

Stock list starts rally

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices slipped early today, then began to rally strongly behind reports of an impending agreement at the Paris meetings on world monetary strategy.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was down 3.38 at 966.44 after having been off more than 7 points a short while earlier. But losers still held a wide 804 to 310 edge on gainers on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said investors seemed to be viewing the monetary talks with extreme caution. "It looks like a continuation of the wait-and-see attitude," said William Nelson of Moody's Investors Service. "The problem is the not knowing and the uncertainty. There's no precedent to tie it to."

West Virginia mines are idled

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — At least 3,000 miners in four southern West Virginia counties remained idled by wildcat strikes today, despite federal court orders and pleas by the United Mine Workers to end the mushrooming walkouts.

Industry sources said the strike has closed more than two dozen mines in Wyoming, Mercer, Boone and McDowell counties.

Included are at least 18 Consolidation Coal Co. mines, the four-mine complex of the Itmann Coal Co. in Wyoming County, three Bishop Co. coal mines in McDowell County and two Eastern Associated Coal Corp. mines.

Reds accuse United States of violations

SAIGON (AP) — The Communists counter-charged today that the United States is shipping war material into South Vietnam without its undergoing the inspection required by the cease-fire agreement.

The Viet Cong asked for an explanation, and the U.S. delegation said it was preparing a reply.

Lt. Gen. Tran Van Tra, chief of the Viet Cong delegation to the Joint Military Commission, made the accusation in a letter to the senior U.S. representative, Maj. Gen. Gilbert H. Woodward.

President Nixon on Thursday accused North Vietnam of major shipments of troops and war materials into South Vietnam in violation of the ceasefire and implied that the United States might resume bombing of such traffic if it did not stop.

Pham Duong Hien, a Saigon government spokesman, said today that these shipments also were endangering the Saigon-Viet Cong political negotiations scheduled to open in Paris Monday.

Tra wrote Woodward that "according to many foreign sources, the United States has recently introduced on many occasions armaments, munitions and war material into South Vietnam. The military delegation of the Provisional Revolutionary Government considers this a violation of Article 7 of the agreement and Article 7 of the protocol."

Ohio workers earn 11 per cent more

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio workers earned 11 per cent more in January, 1973, than they did in January 1972, the Ohio State University Center for Business and Economic Research reported today.

January income was $51.7 billion after seasonal adjustment, OSU said.

Burger Brewery to close; will stay in pop business

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— Burger Beer, one of Cincinnati's three remaining home-owned breweries has closed its doors, but will remain in the lucrative soft drink business.

Officials gave no reasons for closing at midnight, but it was noted that outside competitors have been making inroads into the local beer business.

A meeting of all employes, including 140 brewery workers whose contract ran out with the closing, was scheduled for 3 p.m. today, according to President Edward Koons Jr.

The demise of Burger leaves only Schoenling and Hudepohl breweries still operating in the city that at the turn of the century boasted of 260.

Prohibition killed most of them, although 26 were operating in the early 1930s when beer came back.

The George Wiedemann Brewery, in nearby Newport, Ky., is now owned by a national chain.

No plans were announced for Burger's massive, block-long brewery.

Burger began during prohibition, selling malt for "home brew," and began producing beer with the end of prohibition.

Burger grew to a national product during the 1940s and 1950s and for 20 years sponsored radio broadcasts of the Cincinnati Reds baseball games with former New York Yankee pitcher Waite Hoyt calling the play-by-play.

Burger President J. F. Koons said the firm would continue in the soft drink business which has been "increasing in sales about $1 million a year."

"We are in 11 counties in Ohio and a large part of Florida with four manufacturing plants and 10 warehouses," he said.

The firm bottles Pepsi and Dr. Pepper products plus a number of other soft drink lines. All executives will remain with the company, he said.

'Dirty float' of currency in works

PARIS (AP) — U. S. Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz and 14 other finance ministers meet again in Paris today, but whatever they decide, there is going to be a "dirty float" of all major currencies.

For the second Friday in a row the ministers were meeting to see if they could agree on ways to stabilize the relationship between the dollar and other currencies. In between, Shultz has been consulting in Moscow and Bonn.

Plans emerged Monday to let the value of the most important West European currencies fluctuate on world markets against the dollar and the yen without maximum and minimum limits on the fluctuation. This is called floating, and it would be a "clean float" if the governments and central banks sat still and let the law of supply and demand determine the rates of exchange.

Instead, the European monetary authorities made plain that they will go into the market from time to time to "guide" the rates by trading sufficient sums of one currency against another. That is called a "dirty float."

Before the system of fixed rates broke down on March 2, the central banks had no option about going into the market to buy dollars. They had to do it whenever the rate dropped below a certain fixed amount.

Speculators and money managers all over the world took advantage of the fact that the West German Bundesbank had promised to buy all dollars offered, at a floor rate of 2.835 marks, and that the French, Belgian and Dutch central banks made similar promises.

3rd child in family dies of rare heart disease

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — "This is the way Susan died," Kim Bradley said to his mother as he looked up from his hospital bed.

A few minutes later Kim became the third child of John and Mary Bradley to die of a rare, incurable heart disease called primary pulmonary hypertension.

Kim, 15, had suffered 10 heart attacks.

Doctors at Tallahassee Memorial Hospital said the boy died Thursday without fear, even though he had known for four years the disease would allow him only a short lifespan.

"We just tried to teach him to live one day at a time," said John Bradley, 39. "Do you have any plans for next week? I don't. I'm living for today. We tried to teach Kim to live that way too."

In 1958, the Bradleys' first child, Susan, died of the disease at the age of 3. Three years later, it claimed 2-year-old Linda.

Kim suffered "five major heart attacks and five minor ones over the past four years," said Bradley, a pipefitter at Florida State University. "If we woke up in the morning and everything was all right, then we made plans for that day. If it wasn't all right, then we prepared for the worst."

"We're pretty sure Mary Faith won't be affected by the disease. The doctors said the odds against one member of a family getting it are 1,000-to-1, and the odds against two getting it are way higher," Bradley said.

Storms spread misery over deep south

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy thunderstorms crackled across the South from Texas to the Carolinas today, accompanied by tornadoes, hail and driving rain.

Otherwise, for the most part, skies were cloudy in the East and fair in the West.

Violent snowstorms in South Dakota and a twister in Tennessee on Thursday were blamed for three deaths and a number of injuries.

A soldier's body was discovered outside the main gate of Ellsworth Air Force Base, S.D., by an employe of a South Dakota utility company was found dead in his truck, presumably from carbon-monoxide poisoning.

In Sparta, Tenn., the body of a night watchman at a manufacturing plant was found under tons of debris left by a twister that raked parts of White County in eastern Tennessee.

Tornadoes and a funnel cloud were sighted over Mississippi on Thursday, and hail pelted Greenwood, La. A tornado watch remained in effect today for parts of Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama.

Flash-flood watches were issued for parts of Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama. Muscle Shoals, Ala., was soaked more than two inches of rain during the night.

Families in low-lying areas of the flooding Missouri and Meramec rivers near St. Louis began returning to their homes Thursday.

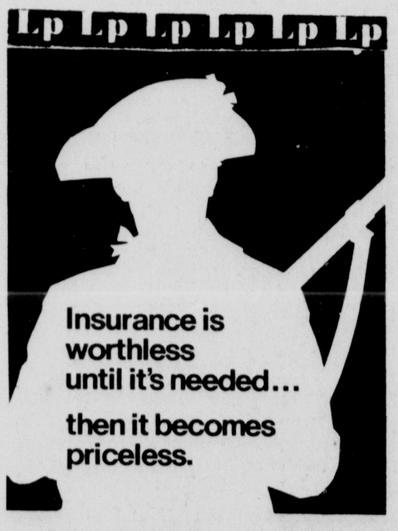

Sandbagging of levees continued at St. Charles and West Alton, both in Missouri, the latter near the mouth of the Missouri, where it was more than 7½ feet out of its banks.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 15 at Casper, Wyo., to 78 at New Orleans, La.

Dear Abby:

The past has left its mark on her

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a 16-year-old girl who has had two illegitimate children which I gave up for adoption. I am sorry to say that I am pregnant again, and I plan to give this one up for adoption too, because the father of my children can't marry me. He was sent to prison, then I found out he had a wife and five kids he never told me about, so maybe it's just as well that things worked out this way.

I want to put my past behind me and start a new life, Abby, but here is my problem. I have very bad stretch marks on my stomach as a result of my pregnancies. They look terrible and I want to get rid of them.

I have been advised that if I meet someone who wants to marry me I should not mention my past, but with these stretch marks it would be a dead giveaway. Also, I would like to be able to wear a two-piece bathing suit. Can you help me? Or am I . . .

SCARRED FOR LIFE

DEAR SCARRED: A plastic surgeon cantell you if your stretch marks can be removed. And in the meantime you had better learn how to take care of yourself. I think you've been stretching your luck too far.

DEAR ABBY: I am so worried about my grandson who is 14. Tonight his mother telephoned me long distance in such a weakened state I could hardly understand her. Her 14-year-old son had struck her and beaten her violently with his fists. In the past he has lied and stolen from her, but no amount of punishment helped. Tonight he all but put my poor daughter in the hospital.

She has two children. The little girl is an angel, but this boy is, I fear, a mental case when angered. He is big and strong for his age and I am afraid one day he will seriously injure or kill some member of the family. Both children are adopted (different parents) could it be hereditary? Please tell me how I can help her? Her husband travels a great deal and she cannot handle the boy.

HEARTSICK

DEAR HEARTSICK: Tell your daughter to get in touch with her local Mental Health Association, or the County Child Welfare Department, and arrange to have her son psychiatrically evaluated. Assure her that she would not be punishing the boy; she would be helping a desperately sick lad.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow with a darling, affectionate little seven-year-old daughter. A very nice gentleman I met at work asked to take me out for dinner, and I was thrilled to pieces. When he came to pick me up my little girl hung on his neck and said, "Are you going to be my new daddy?"

The gentleman turned red in the face and said, "Well, we have to be going now." I could see he was embarrassed and upset, and even though I enjoyed the evening and he seemed to, he has never asked me out again.

What can I do to save the relationship?

26-YEAR-OLD WIDOW

DEAR WIDOW: You could invite him to accompany you to something, but if he appears reluctant, don't press it. And if you don't want to scare off future prospects, you'd better tell your little girl what not to say.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FULL OF PIMPLES": Surely you jest! The advice of your more "experienced" friends on how to get rid of pimples is worse than worthless. It's dangerous. Forget it, or you could find yourself with something much worse than pimples.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to AB-BY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stampsed self-addressed envelopes, please.

Accident case delayed; youth deteriorating

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— The case of a Cincinnati youth, accused of the deaths of five high school girls in a car wreck, has been taken under advisement because of the youth's deteriorating physical condition.

Hamilton County Juvenile Court Judge Benjamin S. Schwartz said Benjamin W. Dasenbrock appeared in a wheel chair Wednesday. He suffered hip and leg injuries in the Oct. 21, 1972 crash and may face amputation.

Dasenbrock earlier testified he had been drinking beer prior to the accident in which his car struck another containing the girls.

Dasenbrock's airborne car sheared the top off the other, police said.

Opinion And Comment

Federal strip mining law

To no one's surprise, President Carl E. Bagge of the National Coal Association has reiterated the industry view that federal law to regulate strip mining is not really needed. He and his colleagues would much prefer to have the matter left to the states.

The states' generally poor record thus far in this respect underlines a well documented fact. Industries which operate in numerous states almost always prefer state to federal regulation because this makes it easier to get the sort of legislation they want. If they lose in one state and get a tough law, they may have better luck in another.

Bagge did make a point of some merit in his comments at the NCA's Symposium on Mineland Reclamation. He urged that regulations for putting land back into shape after the overburden has been stripped to get at the coal should be consistent with a given area's climate and topography.

In this connection he noted that what may be suitable in an Eastern state might not be appropriate for a thinly settled, arid region in the West.

However, Bagge's use of this as an argument against federal legislation is not warranted. Such law can be written so as to give all due consideration to regional differences.

Strip mine operators are presently ripping up land at the rate of several thousand acres daily. There is urgent need for tough federal law to assure protection of the public interest in having mined-over lands restored to something approximating their natural state.

Limey can't dig JFK

An episode lives in memory: John F. Kennedy, battling for the Democratic nomination, is at this point in time wandering around the wintry wastes of Wisconsin. The press is everywhere, hustling for exclusives, trying to find Catholics who support Hubert Humphrey, attempting to pry from Kennedy a hard estimate of his anticipated vote, and in general providing a sense of movement to what was, in fact, a very inert campaign. Always in the background was a ghostly figure of Teddy White, preparing the first volume of his "The Making of the President" series, and invariably, clustered around the invariably generous White, were the British correspondents, busily writing their "first-hand" copy!

It is possible that a Fenian chromosome has led to some unmerited bias, but later in Washington I got the distinct impression that the reigning British journalists looked on their assignment as comparable, say, to covering Zululand. I recall an interview with one pontiff in early 1968, if interview is the right word. He came by the office and, in a nearly hysterical state, told me the United States was on the verge of collapse that we were simply "coming apart at the seams." When I suggested that in the view of British writers the United States has been "coming apart at the seams" for almost 200 years — with only one actual split, the Civil War — he looked at me as if I had told him the world was flat.

OUR PARTING CIVILITIES consisted of his informing me that I just didn't understand American politics and was incapable of spotting a "revolutionary situation" when I saw one. To which I replied that he was used to a nice police society where the masses knew "their place" and, in Mr. Dooley's famous phrase, that the American people were not engaged in revolution but "merely beating the rug." He may still be wandering around in search of that "revolution."

This is a long windup for some observations about a curiously rancid book about the Kennedy Administration by the British journliast Henry Fairlie: "The Kennedy Promise: The Politics of Expectation" (Doubleday). As he notes, Fairlie arrived in Washington in 1965, well after Kennedy's death, so all his information and commentary is second-hand. His central thesis is that Kennedy was a faker, addicted to high-blown rhetoric, who got the United States into all kinds of trouble by arousing unfulfillable expectations. He cites with obvious approbation Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's remark that if the British "people want a sense of purpose, they should get it from their archbishops." In contrast, he argues, Kennedy attempted to usurp a spiritual role for government, casting the Presidency as a virtual Papacy.

Fairlie is a conservative and his ideological position is, if one accepts Burkian premises, perfectly legitimate. A number of serious American commentators such as Irving Kristol, Pat Moynhihan, and James Q. Wilson have criticized the over-politicization (an awful word, but precise) of the Kennedy-Johnson years, the notion that the government could take care of any problem. Indeed, there is a good deal of merit in the argument — until one realizes, for example, that without government action the blacks would not even have crossed the threshold on the road to equality.

But that is a separable argument. The problem with Fairlie's book is not its philosophy; it is his incredible confusion of the Kennedy myth with the Kennedy reality. The notion that the American people looked on John Kennedy alive as a charismatic figure with the attributes of a Byzantine emperor (one of Fairlie's analogies) is simply preposterous. Moreover, Americans are used to high-flown political rhetoric: the theory that it intoxicates them is comparable to assuming that listening to Sunday sermons keeps Christians on the Virtuous Path. (In a different sector, one might note the amazing increase in domestic water usage during TV commercials).

Perhaps the oddest aspect of this fundamentally conservative book is its reliance on left-wing sources. Kennedy was in fact under constant attack by liberals for not doing enough, for not providing effective civil rights leadership, but this Fairlie ignores in favor of I. F. Stone's constant assaults on the President for playing "world policeman." Between them they produce a Byzantine emperor, but not John Kennedy.

"WE'VE GOT A PROBLEM. THE INDIANS ARE ACTING LIKE INDIANS."

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, March 16, the 75th day of 1972. There are 290 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1521, the Portuguese navigator, Ferdinand Magellan, reached the Philippines.

On this date —

In 1676, Indians destroyed the Rhode Island settlements of Warwick and Providence.

In 1751, the fourth American president, James Madison, was born in Port Conway, Va.

In 1802, Congress authorized the establishment of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y.

In 1830, it was a slow day on Wall Street with only 31 shares of stock traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

In 1945, Japanese ressistance on Iwo Jima came to an end after one of the bloodiest battles of the Pacific war.

In 1950, Congress voted to remove federal taxes on oleo-margarine despite protests by dairy farmers.

Ten years ago: In a ceremony at the Vatican, the late nun, Mother Seton, became the first American native to be beatified by the Roman Catholic Church.

Five years ago: Sen. Robert F. Kennedy said he would seek the Democratic presidential nomination to try to change what he called disastrous and divisive American policies in Vietnam and at home.

One year ago: President Nixon made a nationwide broadcast calling for a moratorium on busing to achieve school integration.

Jumping to conclusions

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

Some philosophers fear we are witnessing a reversal of sex roles in our society. Little girls are behaving like tomboys and their mothers like tommen as women in general attempt to act more like men. Men, too, are beginning to return the compliment by acting more like women.

The interchange has gone so far that in some marriages it is the husband who is the better cook and the wife who knows more about baseball. One of the problems the whole question raises is what will our next generation of young males be like? Will they take the trend even further, and become the first generation of tomgirls in our national history?

Somehow the idea of being safeguarded by an army whose men do crocheting while on sentry duty doesn't appeal to me.

The human conscience works in odd ways. I have had a lifelong aversion to eating lamb ever since at the age of five I drew a picture of a lamb which the kindergarten teacher praised as the best ever drawn by a student in her classes.

That flattery made it impossible for me ever again to eat lamb knowingly and enjoy it. It offended my conscience to do so. I suspect, however, that had I drawn the worst picture of a lamb made by any member of the class, today I could relish lamb by the heaping plateful.

Red-haired women are less likely to get fat than blondes or brunettes. Why? Why, for the same reason that red-haired girls are more interesting to men than are blondes or brunettes. They have a quicker metabolism.

(Editor's note: Boyle has been crazy about red-haired girls ever since he was jilted by the one who drew the second-best picture of a lamb in his kindergarten class.)

The saddest criticism I know of life in America is this: More people you meet can reminisce with gladness about details of their childhood than can recall with fondness what has happened to them since they grew up.

ARTICLE IV

Section 5. (A) (1) In addition to all other powers vested by this article in the supreme court, the supreme court shall have general superintendence over all courts in the state. Such general superintending power shall be exercised by the chief justice in accordance with rules promulgated by the supreme court.

(2) The supreme court shall appoint an administrative director who shall assist the chief justice and who shall serve at the pleasure of the court. The compensation and duties of the administrative director shall be determined by the court.

(3) The chief justice or acting chief justice, as necessity arises, shall assign any judge of a court of common pleas temporarily to sit or hold court on any other court of common pleas or any court of appeals or shall assign any judge of a court of appeals temporarily to sit or hold court on any other court of appeals or any court of common pleas and upon such assignment said judge shall serve in such assigned capacity until the termination of the assignment. Rules may be adopted to provide for the temporary assignment of judges to sit and hold court in any court established by law.

(B) The supreme court shall prescribe rules governing practice and procedure in all courts of the state, which rules shall not abridge, enlarge, or modify any substantive right. Proposed rules shall be filed by the court, not later than the fifteenth day of January, with the clerk of each house of the general assembly during a regular session thereof, and amendments to any such proposed rules may be adopted by a concurrent resolution of the general assembly not later than the first day of May in that session. Such rules and amendments as adopted by concurrent resolution of the general assembly shall take effect on the following first day of July, unless prior to such day the general assembly adopts a concurrent resolution of disapproval. All laws in conflict with such rules shall be of no further force or effect after such rules have taken effect.

Courts may adopt additional rules concerning local practice in their respective courts which are not inconsistent with the rules promulgated by the supreme court. The supreme court may make rules to require uniform record keeping for all courts of the state, and shall make rules governing the admission to the practice of law and discipline of persons so admitted.

(C) The chief justice of the supreme court or any judge of that court designated by him shall pass upon the disqualification of any judge of the courts of appeals or courts of common pleas. Rules may be adopted to provide for the hearing of disqualification matters involving judges of courts established by law.

(2) The judges of the courts of appeals shall be elected by the electors of their respective appellate districts, for terms of not less than six years.

(3) The judges of the courts of common pleas shall be elected by the electors of the counties in which their respective courts are located, for terms of not less than six years, and each judge of a court of common pleas shall reside during his term of office in the county in which his court is located.

(4) Terms of office of all judges shall begin on the days fixed by law, and laws shall be enacted to prescribe the times and mode of their election.

(B) The judges of the supreme court, courts of appeals, courts of common pleas, and the judges of other courts established by law, shall, at stated times, receive, for their services such compensation as may be provided by law, which shall not be diminished during their term of office. The compensation of all judges of the supreme court, except that of the chief justice, shall be the same. The compensation of all judges of the courts of appeals shall be the same. Common pleas judges and the judges of other courts established by law shall receive such compensation as may be provided by law. (Amended House Joint Resolution No. 5)

JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing to amend sections 4, 6, 7, 9, 11, 14, and 16 of Article II, to enact new sections 8 and 15 of Article II, and to repeal sections 8, 15, 17, 18, 19, and 25 of Article II of the Constitution of the State of Ohio, relative to the administration, organization, and procedures of the General Assembly.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at a special election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in May, 1973, a proposal to amend sections 4, 6, 7, 9, 11, 14, and 16 of Article II, to enact new sections 8 and 15 of Article II, and to repeal sections 8, 15, 17, 18, 19, and 25 of Article II of the Constitution of Ohio to read as follows:

ARTICLE II

Section 4. No member of the general assembly shall, during the term for which he was elected, unless during such term he resigns therefrom, hold any public office under the United States, or this state, or a political subdivision thereof; but this provision does not extend to officers of a political party, notaries public, or officers of the militia or of the United States armed forces.

No member of the general assembly shall, during the term for which he was elected, or for one year thereafter, be appointed to any public office under this state, which office was created or the compensation of which was increased, during the term for which he was elected.

Section 6. Each House shall be judge of the election, returns, and qualifications of its own members. A majority of all the members elected to each House shall be a quorum to do business; but, a less number may adjourn from day to day, and compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner, and under such penalties, as shall be prescribed by law.

Each House may punish its members for disorderly conduct and, with the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected thereto, expel a member, but not the second time for the same cause.

Each House has all powers necessary to provide for its safety and the undisturbed transaction of its business, and to obtain, through committees or otherwise, information affecting legislative action under consideration or in contemplation, or with reference to any alleged breach of its privileges or misconduct of its members, and to that end to enforce the attandance and testimony of witnesses, and the production of books and papers.

Section 7. The mode of organizing each House of the general assembly shall be prescribed by law.

Each House, except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, shall choose its own officers. The presiding officer in the Senate shall be designated as president of the Senate and in the House of Representatives as speaker of the House of Representatives.

Each House shall determine its own rules of proceeding.

Section 8. Each general assembly shall convene in first regular session on the first Monday of January in the odd-numbered year, or on the succeeding day of the first Monday of January is a legal holiday, and in second regular session on the same date of the following year. Either the governor, or the presiding officers of the general assembly chosen by the members thereof, acting jointly, may convene the general assembly in special session by a proclamation which may limit the purpose of the session. If the presiding officer of the Senate is not chosen by the members thereof, the president pro tempore of the Senate may act with the speaker of the House of Representatives in the calling of a special session.

Section 9. Each House shall keep a correct journal of its proceedings, which shall be published. At the desire of any two members, the yeas and nays shall be entered upon the journal; and, on the passage of every bill, in either House, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and entered upon the journal.

Section 11. A vacancy in the Senate or in the House of Representatives for any cause, including the failure of a member-elect to qualify for office, shall be filled by election by the members of the Senate or the members of the House of Representatives, as the case may be, who are affiliated with the same political party as the person last elected by the electors to the seat which has become vacant. A vacancy occurring before or during the first twenty months of a Senatorial term shall be filled temporarily by election as provided in this section, for only that portion of the term which will expire on the thirty-first day of December following the next general election occurring in an even-numbered year after the vacancy occurs, at which election the seat shall be filled by the electors as provided by law for the remaining, unexpired portion of the term, the member-elect so chosen to take office on the first day in January next following such election. No person shall be elected to fill a vacancy in the Senate or House of Representatives, as the case may be, unless he meets the qualifications set forth in this Constitution and the laws of this state for the seat in which the vacancy occurs. An election to fill a vacancy shall be accomplished, notwithstanding the provisions of section 27, Article II of this Constitution, by the adoption of a resolution, while the Senate or the House of Representatives, as the case may be, is in session, with the taking of the yeas and nays of the members of the Senate or the House of Representatives, as the case may be, affiliated with the same political party as the person last elected to the seat in which the vacancy occurs. The adoption of such resolution shall require the affirmative vote of a majority of the members elected to the Senate or the House of Representatives, as the case may be, entitled to vote thereon. Such vote shall be spread upon the journal of the Senate or the House of Representatives, as the case may be, and certified to the Secretary of State by the clerk thereof. The Secretary of State shall, upon receipt of such certification, issue a certificate of election to the person so elected and upon presentation of such certificate to the Senate or the House of Representatives, as the case may be, the person so elected shall take the oath of office and become a member of the Senate or the House of Representatives, as the case may be, for the term for which he was so elected.

Section 14. Neither House shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than five days, Sundays excluded; nor to any other place than that, in which the two Houses are in session.

Section 15. (A) The general assembly shall enact no law except by bill, and no bill shall be passed without the concurrence of a majority of the members elected to each house. Bills may originate in either house, but may be altered, amended, or rejected in the other.

(B) The style of the laws of this state shall be, "Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio."

(C) Every bill shall be considered by each house on three different days, unless two-thirds of the members elected to the house in which it is pending suspend this requirement, and every individual consideration of a bill or action suspending the requirement shall be recorded in the journal of the respective house. No bill may be passed until the bill has been reproduced and distributed to members of the house in which it is pending and every amendment been made available upon a member's request.

(D) No bill shall contain more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in its title. No law shall be revived or amended unless the new act contains the entire act revived, or the section or sections amended, and the section or sections amended shall be repealed.

(E) Every bill which has passed both houses of the general assembly shall be signed by the presiding officer of each house to certify that the procedural requirements for passage have been met and shall be presented forthwith to the governor for his approval.

(F) Every joint resolution which has been adopted in both houses of the general assembly shall be signed by the presiding officer of each house to certify that the procedural requirements for adoption have been met and shall forthwith be filed with the secretary of state.

Section 16. If the governor approves an act, he shall sign it, it becomes law and he shall file it with the secretary of state.

If he does not approve it, he shall return it with his objections in writing, to the house in which it originated, which shall enter the objections at large upon its journal, and may then reconsider the vote on its passage. If three-fifths of the members elected to the house of origin vote to repass the bill, it shall be sent, with the objections of the governor, to the other house, which may also reconsider the vote on its passage. If three-fifths of the members elected to the second house vote to repass it, it becomes law notwithstanding the objections of the governor, and the presiding officer of the second house shall file it with the secretary of state. In no case shall a bill be repassed by a smaller vote than is required by the constitution on its original passage. In all cases of reconsideration the vote of each house shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against the bill shall be entered upon the journal.

If a bill is not returned by the governor within ten days, Sundays excepted, after being presented to him, it becomes law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the general assembly by adjournment prevents its return; in which case, it becomes law unless, within ten days after such adjournment, it is filed by him, with his objections in writing, in the office of the secretary of state. The governor shall file with the secretary of state every bill not returned by him to the house of origin that becomes law without his signature.

The governor may disapprove any item or items in any bill making an appropriation of money and the item or items, so disapproved, shall be void, unless repassed in the manner prescribed by this section for the repassage of a bill.

EFFECTIVE DATE AND REPEAL

If adopted by a majority of the electors voting on this amendment, the amendment and schedule thereto shall take immediate effect, and existing sections 4, 6, 7, 9, 11, 14, and 16 of Article II, and sections 8, 15, 17, 18, 19, and 25 of Article II shall be repealed from such effective date.

Ohio perspective

All not harmony in state house

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — All is not harmony among Democrats who control the Ohio House in the 110th General Assembly.

The case of Rep. George D. Tablack, D-52 Campbell, is an example.

Tablack reportedly was irked because Gov. John J. Gilligan refused to reappoint his father, a former representative, to the Liquor Control Commission.

Although he worked out his differences with the governor on that matter, he now confides to friends that he feels his Ways and Means Committee is being bypassed for hearing major bills.

The bills that would usually go there, he contended, are being re-routed to other committees.

Tablack, partly as a result, has begun hearings on a constitutional amendment proposal that would require voter approval of an increase of more than one-half of one per cent in either the sales or income tax during any 5-year period.

It is a proposal Gilligan opposes. If it could pass both the House and Senate, it would go on the November ballot. Tablack believes it would be a cinch to get voter approval.

Other animosity has been building between two other committee chairmen, Rep. Tom Fries, D-35 Dayton, Local Government and Urban Affairs, and Rep. Harry J. Lehman, D-and Rep. Harry J. Lehman, D-16 Shaker Heights who chairs a section of the House Judiciary Committee.

Both are members of the insurance, Utilities and Financial Institutions Committee, where a Fries bill on clarifying the licensing law regarding non-resident insurance firms was heard last week. Lehman tried to amend it.

"If we accept this amendment, will it satisfy your clients?" Fries asked. Lehman, a lawyer, was obviously irked. "Mr. Fries," he replied, "I have clients on both sides of this issue."

After the hearing, Lehman asked Fries into a nearby office. When Fries came out a lobbyist friend asked, "Did you get your dressing down?"

"I told him," said Fries, "that if he didn't quit bugging me I would hit him in the mouth."

Incinerator firm told to close tepee operation

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— The Ohio Environmental Protection Agency has told Clarke Incinerators Inc., to build a new anti-pollution device in 18 months or be forced out of business.

Thomas Clarke, owner, had asked a variance to pollute temporarily until two other incinerators could be modernized at a cost of $400,000.

The EPA, in granting the variance, also ordered Clarke to close down his controversial "teepee" incinerator at Interstates 75 and 275 by April 18 and have the new plant under construction by Sept. 15.

He was also ordered to proceed with modernizing the other incinerators.

POW will get hero's welcome

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Former prisoner-of-war, Navy Lt. Cmdr. Charles Stackhouse will receive a "hero's welcome" when he returns to his old hometown of Norwood next Friday.

"I'm really going to wave the flag," said Norwood High School Principal Albert Geselbracht, who remembers Stackhouse as a student in his school.

The celebration will include a high school assembly to which old athletes, friends, teachers and city officials have been invited. A parade will follow and there will be a testimonial luncheon at a local motel.

"You know patriotism almost became a dirty word during the Vietnam War," Geselbracht said, "the kids are blase about it.

"I'm counting on this to let the youngsters know what a young man is, who could live in barbaric conditions, who had the courage and determination to overcome it.

"Very frankly, I'm going to wave the flag."

Geselbracht arranged the entire celebration.

"The kids have got to know they have a helluva fine country, but the big thing is to see a real live hero, someone who maybe sat in the same seat they occupy now, who developed into the person he is.

"Maybe some of it will rub off."

Geselbracht was principal when Stackhouse and his brother Bill, now an Air Force major, were presented appointments to military academies.

They were not twins, but were in the same class. Both lettered in football, basketball and baseball, were among the top of their classes and Charles was class president.

"You know," Geselbracht said, "his father died when they were just children. But they worked hard to raise themselves up. Their mother who now lives in Lemoore, Calif., and Mrs. Nellie Hill, the next door neighbor who helped raise the boys, were very strong-minded people.

"There are a lot of stories about people getting into trouble and having problems because they were poor, and their families were broken up.

"Well, this is one time you see someone make something of himself to be proud of.

"He's an all-American kind of a guy, but he'll be the first one to deny that."

Stackhouse was shot down over Hanoi April 25, 1967.

CCI inmate loses bid for damages

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A prison inmate has 10 days to file another motion after a U.S. District Court threw out his suit against Ohio emanating from a sit-down strike last December at the Chillicothe Correctional Institute.

U.S. District Court Judge David S. Porter called Gordon Firman's request for $520,000 damages vague. He said it did not qualify as a class action for 52 inmates and refused to appoint an attorney for him.

Firman's action, filed in January, said the inmate's civil rights were violated when they were transferred Dec. 22 by bus to the new Southern Ohio Correctional Facility at Lucasville.

Porter's order Thursday said the complaint "shows on the face of it that the plaintiff and others were placed on buses only after engaging in a sitdown strike—and—thus there may have been an emergency which justified the transfer without the niceties of due process."

Porter said Firman did not specify which rights he thought were violated. He said further that the suit could not be considered a class action because each of the 52 cases will be different.

Young men still dislike military

WASHINGTON (AP) — Young America's opinion of military service inched upward last year, but nearly 60 per cent of civilian young men still held a negative attitude, says a survey for the Pentagon's manpower office.

The reasons given for not enlisting shifted as the draft approached zero in 1972 and the United States disengaged from the Vietnam war.

In two previous surveys in 1971, the report said, "the principal reason cited for not enlisting was antagonism toward war or the military establishment."

By last summer there was less stress on these factors and "increased emphasis accorded consideration of personal freedom and life style," the survey found. The check was made last June but results have just become available.

"Also, youth were less likely to report fear of death or injury ... as deterrents to enlistment," the report said.

Henderson starts series of assemblies at MTHS

By KATHY COTTRILL

A series of assemblies on various subjects has begun at Miami Trace. The first was given by Ken Henderson, a native Ohioan who now lives in Lexington, Ky. He was introduced by Mr. Charles Richmond, pastor of the South Side Church of Christ.

For the "educational" portion of the program, Mr. Henderson recited several short humorous poems. Accompanying himself on the guitar, the young man sang a take-off entitled "By the Time I Get to Venus" and a religious song about his Friend Jesus.

Mr. Henderson related that when he was in school, he decided to imitate the most popular boy in the school. So turning from the Christian principles his parents has instilled in him, he tried cheating, shoplifting, and smoking. However, he did not join his friends at a drinking party, after which his idol killed himself. Then he realized that if he had been a Christian in front of his friend, the boy would have lived. He stressed the importance of living up to the example of Jesus' life.

The visit to Bliss College consisted of an interview with an executive, followed by a discussion period.

MT students see actor recreate George B. Shaw

The second in a series of assemblies was held recently at MTHS. It featured Mr. Bromwell Fletcher, an actor for 43 years. His last Broadway role was playing opposite Julie Andrews in "My Fair Lady." Mr. Fletcher came to Fayette County with the National Humanities Series.

Born in an English mining town to a poor family, Mr. Fletcher moved to London where he worked in an office. He became interested in art and it was at an art show that he first saw George Bernard Shaw. At another meeting with the famous Shaw, the playwright persuaded Fletcher to try acting. After auditioning for several people, the young Bromwell landed small acting jobs at Stratford-on-Avon.

Famous for his recreation of George Bernard Shaw, Mr. Fletcher imitated the famous man for the student body. A highlight of the program was a scene from "My Fair Lady" which Mr. Fletcher performed with the help of Dawn Schlichter.

Something to think about

BY: NED KINZER

Tact is a factor in our personality, which if developed correctly, can serve to great advantage throughout life. It is wise to use diplomacy in everything we say and do, which means using our judgment in how to say or do a thing at the proper time and place. Tactfulness is simply weighing the matter at hand, and replying or doing what seems best, to suit each circumstance, considering all concerned.

MT girls win state FHA degrees

The Miami Trace High School chapter of Future Homemakers of America announces the awarding of state degrees to Brenda Finley, Pam Woods, Miracle Florea, and Patsy Gibson. To be awarded this degree is the highest achievement a girl or boy may receive in the Future Homemakers of America and Hero youth organization.

These girls have shown growth in school activities, personal achievements, home membership, and community service. Previous to this award, they had received their Junior Homemaker and Chapter degrees.

On April 13 in Veterans Memorial in Columbus at the FHA state meeting these four girls, joining some 300 others from Ohio, will be greeted by the state advisor, Mrs. Adele Riegel, and receive the state degree certificate. Later that evening a reception will be held in their honor and at the evening meeting they will be recognized by some 1,500 FHA members attending state meeting.

Nationally Future Homemakers of America and Hero, jointly sponsored by the American Home Economics Association and the U.S. Office of Education, has a membership of half a million junior and senior high school students enrolled in home economics and related occupations courses.

STATE DEGREE WINNERS — Four Miami Trace High School FHA members have been awarded state degrees, the highest achievement a girl or boy may receive in the Future Homemakers of America and Hero youth organization. The winners, left to right, are Miracle Florea, Brenda Finley and Patsy Gibson. Pam Woods, another winner, was absent when the picture was taken.

Yearbook meet held at MTHS

By SUSAN TOLLE

The student body met recently in the auditorium for an assembly concerning the annual yearbook.

During this time a film was shown to explain what a yearbook could mean in the future. This film was narrated by Mrs. Patricia Gall, the yearbook advisor.

Following the film, yearbook staff members passed out order forms which were filled out and turned in before the end of the assembly. Payments for the 1973 yearbook was later collected in home rooms.

Immediately following the yearbook assembly, the students were dismissed to go to class meetings. The seniors discussed what gift to leave the school, with a victory bell as one suggestion.

The juniors announced committees for the prom and class party, and the sophomores and freshmen selected committees for their class parties at the end of the year.

Creek safety to be costly

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Ralph J. Perk has asked the properties and utilities departments to determine what can be done to make Doan Brook Creek safe and keep it from becoming a death trap for children.

At least three — and probably four — children have drowned in the creek in the last eleven months, prompting Perk to investigate the possibility of culverting the steep-walled drainage ditch that runs through Wade, Rockefeller and Gordon parks.

That could be costly, however, since a 1956 study estimated the cost at $10 million.

Bartunek eyes senate

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Joseph W. Bartunek, former chairman of the Cuyahoga County Democratic party, is reportedly seriously interested in running for the U.S. Senate next year.

Bartunek's interest in the spot brings the primary field to four. The others expected to run are Cleveland lawyer Howard M. Metzenbaum, former astronaut John H. Glenn and former U.S. Sen. Stephen M. Young.

Bartunek, 49, a conservative Catholic, would represent the biggest threat to Metzenbaum, a Jewish liberal and the party's unsuccessful candidate in 1970.

Bartunek declined to comments on his candidacy, but reports indicate he is considering resigning as Cleveland State University board chairman as early as this May to devote more time to his candidacy.

Bartunek was a state senator from 1949 to 1964, a probate judge for the next six years and county party chairman from 1970 to 1972.

A report by zoologist Dr. Roger Payne says that the disposition of a right whale is at variance with the centuries-old reputation for smashing boats and men. Dr. Payne said, "That violent action only followed harpooning and lacing, with the whale writhing in agony."

Ohio Penitentiary closes doors to any new inmates

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Penitentiary, a 139-year-old fortress that has housed nearly 140,000 prisoners in its turbulent history, will close its doors to new inmates Friday.

Warden Harold J. Cardwell says the prison "stabilized" at about 680 inmates earlier this month. Starting Monday, receiving, screening and placing new prisoners will be handled at the Chillicothe Correctional Institute and the new maximum security prison at Lucasville. Remaining are inmates being screened, those heading for parole and an inmate custodial force.

It's another step in state plans to eventually close the somber looking cluster of stone building near Capital City's downtown area. Nothing definite has been decided, however, on what to do with the prison complex and the 30 acres on which the facility is located.

In the 1950s, Ohio Penitentiary had a population 5,200, nearly 5,000 of them behind bars.

"I don't know how they ever did it," Cardwell said.

The prison's history has been violent.

In 1849, cholera struck, killing 116 of 423 inmates.

In a 1930 Easter tragedy, 322 perished in a fire believed to have started by a candle used in an escape try.

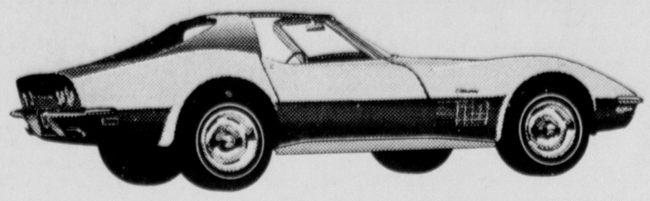

In 1968, rioters started several fires. A month later, riots broke out again, and it took the Ohio National Guard, State Highway Patrol, Columbus police and prison guards to quell the outbreak. Five inmates died when Guardsmen blasted a 10-foot hole in a prison wall and troops swarmed in.

There have been 343 executions at the penitentiary—the first 28 hanged, the rest died in the electric chair installed in 1897. Three of them were women.

The last execution was 10 years ago March 14—when Donald L. Reinboldt of Columbus paid with his life for the robbery-slaying of a Columbus grocer.

He was formerly employed as X-ray technician at Fayette Memorial Hospital.

Buzzards are back at Hinkley

HINCKLEY, Ohio (AP)— Pancake lovers can get ready for Buzzard Sunday: the birds are back.

Sgt. Ambrose Berger of the Cleveland Metropolitan Park System's Hinckley Reserve says he sighted the buzzards back on their reservation roosts at 8:18 a.m. Thursday.

That was March 15, the day on which the buzzards always show up, he says.

And that sets off plans for Buzzard Sunday, the day of pancakes, what Berger calls "something like a carnival"— and tourists, maybe 30,000 of them, he says.

Berger says the buzzards apparently were attracted to their dead tree roosts 150 years ago, when hunters left a lot of skinned carcasses to freeze during the winter and rot when they thawed in the spring.

Buzzards return to their favorite perches "year after year," he says.

Are they ever early? "Well, we're not allowed to say," Berger answered with a laugh, then added: "There have been some sightings before, but we believe people are seeing either hawks or crows in the sky and not buzzards."

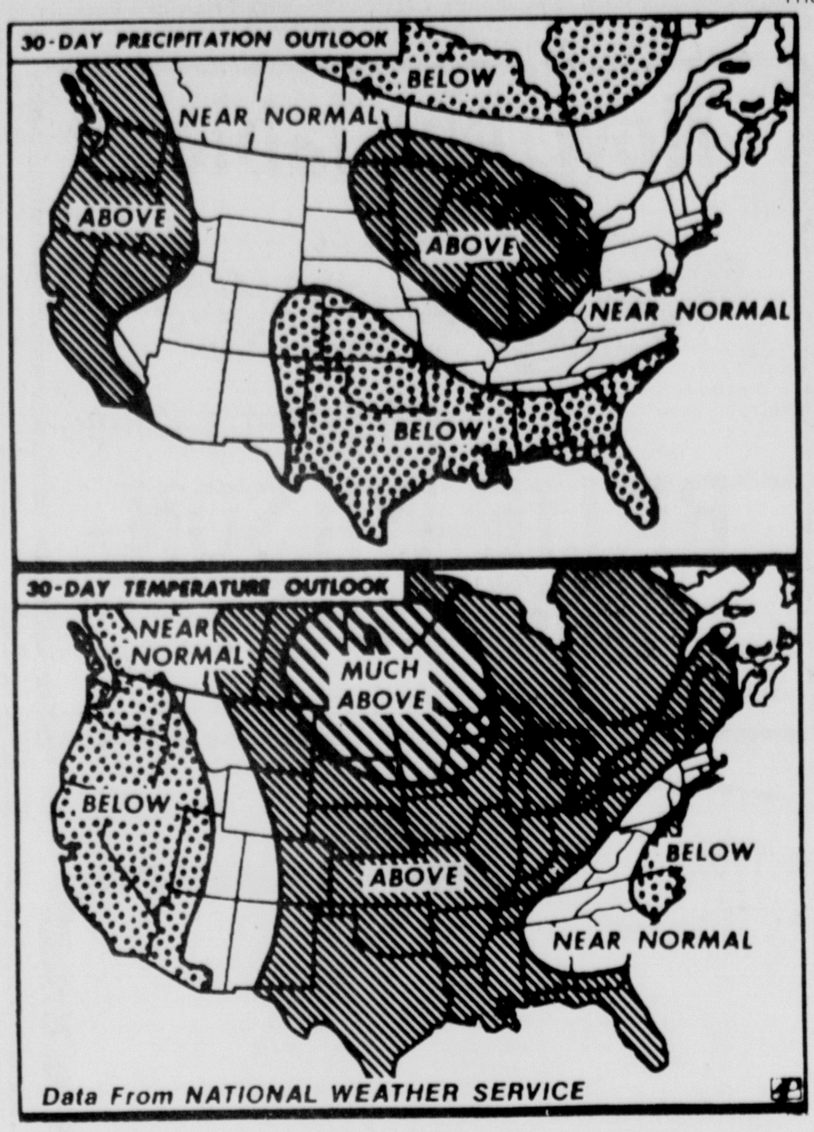

The Sunday ceremony and the March 15 tradition, he said, was started by the park district's Lt. Walt Nawalaniec in 1957 with the help of a Cleveland reporter.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Comedienne Lily Tomlin, of "Laugh-In," college circuit and coffeehouse fame, is appearing in her own television special tonight on CBS. It's her first such show.

It's a very moving show. It may move you right into the arms of Morpheus if you don't have a trombone student standing by with orders to play "Mighty Like a Rose" whenever your head droops.

Miss T. is an inherently funny woman, as those who have seen her in person or on "Laugh-In" can testify. Anyone who can create such diverse souls as Ernestine of the switchboard or the Tasteful Lady of suburbia can't be all bad.

But her first major solo effort on television is conducted at such a drawn-out pace you may get the feeling the show's seven writers dictated the material during their afternoon nap.

A case in point comes in a skit introducing a new face in Miss Tomlin's arsenal of characters —Miss Bobbi Geneen, the lady organist in a saloon called Rocky's Starlite Lounge.

Bobbi is the prototype of any cocktail lounge organist you've ever seen, right down to the patter and electronic drumming machine that always seems to be thumping out the beat to "Volare."

It's a funny premise, but it just lays about like stale peanuts.

There is a fairly funny skit at the start of the show involving what happens when a Cosmopolitan reader (a "sexually liberated, but an old-fashioned girl") meets a Playboy boy whose hobbies are "tiger hunting and ecology."

But this, too, passes out as the two ignore their respective advisors from both magazines and decamp in search of true love, a Walt Disney movie and a pizza.

The only segment that really seems to score is one in which Miss Tomlin plays one of those average American housewives who have nothing to do but tout laundry detergents on television.

She declares that her detergent really does the job and starts filling the laundry machine with a load that includes son Billy's dirty chinos and her husband's lipstick-stained shirt.

She sort of loses her train of thought after pondering those lipstick stains and finally explodes, "Well, you want to know something? Billy isn't yours!"

$1,000 bond forfeited by elevator operator

L. J. Dill, owner and former operator of the Dill Grain Co. elevator in Milledgeville, forfeited a $1,000 bond in Municipal Court Thursday afternoon after failing to appear on a charge of failure to remove debris left at the elevator site after it burned in November, 1970.

Dill, who also operates a grain elevator in Columbus, posted the bond in November, 1972, after failing to obey an earlier court order to clean up the wreckage.

Millegeville Mayor Johnny D. Blair filed the complaint under a Milledgeville village ordinance in July, 1972, and the case appeared in court in August. Dill was found guilty in the August court appearance and was ordered to clear the site by Nov. 9.

The debris had still not been cleared away by the November date and Judge Reed M. Winegardner fined Dill $50 per day for each day of the violation. He suspended the fine, however, and ordered Dill to post $1,000 bond and have the site cleaned up in 30 days.

Dill was granted another 30-day extension in December after a start had been made to remove the wreckage from the site on Main Street in the Jasper Township village.

The second 30-day extension expired in January and the case was continued to Thursday when Dill failed to appear and forfeited the bond.

Judge Winegardner also imposed a fine of $50 a day to take effect March 26 if the former elevator site is not cleared within the next 10 days.

Fayette County Boys Choir plans fund raising events

Members of the Fayette County Boys Choir will be calling at homes here Saturday afternoon with mini tool kits, suitable to keep in the car or home, occasional cards and note cards for sale to raise money for the choir's annual educational trip to historical Charlotte, Va., May 4, 5 and 6. Mrs. William Heinz is chairman of the project.

The trip will be made by charter bus. Mrs. Joe Overly is the adult secretary of the choir, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Waggoner, the treasurers, and Garrell Leasure the trip manager. They will be the chaperones.

The choir also has plans for a food sale next week and will present a concert at the Business and Professional Women's Club meeting March 27 in the Country Club.

Defective thermostat blamed for fire

A faulty thermostat on a deep fryer was blamed for a minor blaze at a Lakeview Avenue home Thursday afternoon, city firemen reported.

Firemen said the deep fryer in the David Petitt home, 1115 Lakeview Ave., apparently overheated and caught fire, causing approximately $150 damage to the fryer and kitchen.

Petitt, firemen said, managed to smother the blaze by throwing a wet towel over the fryer.

Fostoria nurse dies in Indiana accident

PERU, Ind. (AP)—A Fostoria, Ohio, nurse stationed at Grissom Air Force Base near here was killed Thursday night in a one-car accident on U.S. 31 about 7 miles south of Peru.

The victim was Linda L. Davidson, 30. State police estimated the vehicle was traveling at more than 80 miles an hour when it went off the road.

Man receives prison term for shooting

David E. Harter, 36, was sentenced to a term of one to 20 years in state prison Thursday in Common Pleas Court for shooting with intent to kill or wound. Judge Evelyn W. Coffman pronounced sentence after Harter entered a plea of guilty.

The charge stemmed from a March 29, 1972, shooting in a North Fayette Street apartment. Harter's wife, Annabelle, sustained a gunshot wound to her right side in the incident. The shot was fired from a .32 caliber pistol.

Harter was indicted by the grand jury in January.

Organized labor boycotts Demo fund-raiser

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—An AFL-CIO official says the organization will boycott a $100-a-plate Democratic party fund-raising dinner next month

James Iafelice, chairman of the AFL-CIO's Committee On Political Education, said Thursday the organization is boycotting all of the party's fund-raising efforts to protest alleged mistreatment from Gov. John Gilligan and Cuyahoga County party members.

For the first time in its history, the 20,000-member labor group refused to purchase $1,000 of tickets for the dinner. Iafelice said the group is now "a bachelor in the political arena."

The 130,000-member Teamsters Union is expected to follow suit.

Miami U president given degree by OSU

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University awarded an honorary doctor of law degree today to Miami University President Dr. Phillip R. Shriver at winter commencement exercises for about 1,750 graduates.

Dr. Shriver, president of Miami University since 1965, said in prepared remarks that he and OSU President Harold L. Enarson "share many things in common, particularly our grave concern over the current and prospectively worsening, depression affecting Ohio's public higher education institutions."

Perk establishes antismut force

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Smut and prostitution will be on their way out, the transit system will be healthy and the police department will more efficient, if Mayor Ralph J. Perk has his way.

Perk said Thursday he was establishing a six-man police smut force, under his direction, to clean up the city. It will be the first time in city history a police unit operates outside the safety department.

T., an eight grader, and Cynthia, a fifth grader, received two silver dollars apiece for their projects, judged the best among 130 entries. They will now go on to the Miami Trace Science Fair Saturday, along with seventh graders Kevin Birchfield, Fred Melvin and Scott Seman; and eighth graders Chonita Brust, Lisa Melvin and Jerry Lowe, all of whom received excellent ratings. Other excellent ratings were awarded to fourth graders Don Melvin and Cam Dean; fifth graders Todd Delay and Oral Hurst; and sixth graders Brenda Delay, Carey Brust and Melissa Anschutz. The judges were student members of the Miami Trace High School Science Committee.

The students were selected on the basis of their performances on preliminary tests.

OU trustee case opens

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A hearing on a state request for a summary judgement in the case of an Ohio University trustee accused of conflict of interest was to begin today in Franklin County Common Pleas Court.

State Attorney General William Brown filed a civil suit against Fred Johnson in August, 1972, seeking to have Johnson return commissions he received for insurance he sold Ohio University while he was a trustee.

The state claims that Johnson received approximately $77,000 in commissions for the sale of life, major medical, and health insurance over a 15-year period.

Johnson has been a trustee of the university since 1947 and is still on the board. The university stopped paying commissions on the policies in 1971 when the alleged conflict was first brought to light by the attorney general's office.

In the fall of 1971 a grand jury investigated the conflict of interest charges against Johnson but was desolved without any indictment being presented.

Inmate being sought after Columbus escape

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Authorities still were searching today for a Southern Ohio Correctional Institution inmate who fled from the Franklin County courthouse as he was about to go on trial for wounding a prison guard.

Bobby Griffith, who was transported from the prison at Lucasville to Columbus to stand trial, escaped Thursday by kicking a hole through a restroom wall.

Toledo students are feared lost in Ottawa River

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Search operations were to resume today for the bodies of two University of Toledo students, Jim Gregory, 20, and Dave Parker, 19, who apparently drowned Thursday when their rafts overturned in the Ottawa River in suburban Ottawa Hills.

The two students, both of Toledo, and two companions were in two rubber rafts shooting a dam on the river when the rafts capsized. Scott Johnston, 23, of Maumee, and Dale Benington, 22, of Toledo managed to swim to the shore.

Divers searched for the bodies of the missing men until dark.

The four had made the same trip down the river and over the dam Wednesday without incident, according to authorities.

The Great Lakes-St. Lawrence shipping season is about eight months long — from mid-April to late December.

Pilot has so many medals he can't keep them pinned

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Air Force Capt. Ronald E. Smith kept a straight face as one of the "less important" decorations, the Distinguished Flying Cross, slipped off his uniform for the third time during ceremonies at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base Thursday.

The 29-year-old Gainesville, Fla., pilot played down the hero role all the way as the Air Force Cross, the nation's second highest medal for combat valor, was pinned on his pocket.

Smith also received two awards of the Silver Star, the second, third, and fourth oak leaf clusters, and the first through seventh such clusters to the Air Medal.

The captain, an A1E Skyraider pilot assigned to Nakon Phanom Air Base in Thailand in 1972, was given the awards for rescue work.

Smith received so many awards that Brig. Gen. Frank Simokaitis couldn't find places to pin them all. On one occasion during the ceremonies, Smith broke from attention to catch one of the medals as it fell off his uniform.

On another occasion Simokaitis caught a falling medal and muttered out loud, "We need an engineer."

During his remarks, Smith said, "I was just lucky to be in the right place at the right time—so many times. I'm not unique."

Capt. Smith earned the Air Force Cross for rescuing an F-4 pilot who had been shot down and who had evaded capture for 23 days. Smith rescued the pilot after searching for him about seven hours over a two-day period.

Similar incidents involving downed air crews in Laos earned Smith the Silver Stars. Aid in the rescue of an observation pilot in Laos, support of a rescue flight trying to reach Quang Tri City and a tactical mission against trucks and supplies lead to the other awards.

Smith is now enrolled in a master of science program in systems analysis at the Institute of Technology School of Engineering here. He holds a BA degree in aerospace engineering from the University of Florida.

Walleye fishing ban remains in effect

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— State Wildlife Division Chief Dan Armbruster says a ban against commercial walleye fishing in Lake Erie remains in effect despite a court challenge of new fishing regulations.

Raymond Fisheries of Toledo filed an appeal in Franklin County Common Pleas Court which temporarily halted enforcement of the new fishing regulations.

The regulations closed six areas in Lake Erie to commercial fishing, and continue for five years the ban on commercial walleye fishing in Lake Erie and its tributaries.

The best-known explanation for the handshake is that the right hand traditionally holds weapons. In the past, an extended empty right hand showed peaceful intent.

MEET THRU AD— Micki Topper of West Berlin advertised in Fort Wayne, Ind., for a husband so she could remain in the United States after her visitor's visa expired. Micki sits with Eric Elam, 26, of Huntertown, Ind., whom she chose through the advertisement.

Man sentenced as drug pusher

HUNTINGTON, W.Va. (AP) — Cabell County Common Pleas Judge Robert Conaty has sentenced 46-year-old Henry Taylor of Burlington, Ohio, to from 1-15 years in prison following his jury conviction for selling heroin.

Conaty ordered the sentence to be served concurrently with a 30-year term meted Taylor earlier this month by U.S. District Court in Charleston.

Taylor received that sentence after being found guilty of conspiracy to sell heroin.

Centralized schools eyed

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati School Superintendent Donald Waldrip has called for a program of centralized school building to eliminate racial isolation in elementary and junior high schools.

The report, submitted Thursday to the school board, calls for eliminating all-white and all-black neighborhood schools with a minimum of busing.

"If we can't sell this small step to the community," he said, "then I doubt if we'll be able to sell any plan to end racial isolation.

"It will then just be a matter of time until the courts come in and tell us what to do."

The building program, he suggested, should be done with a $25 million bond issue voted last November.

Corn crop increase predicted for Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio farmers intend to plant 3,660,000 acres of corn in 1973, a 10 per cent increase over last year, the Agriculture Department said Thursday.

Indications as of March 1 also were that 3,316,000 acres of soybeans will be planted, an 8 per cent increase over 1972.

Stop saving for a new home!

Ridge Homes is here.

Stop saving.
You probably have more than you need to build your dream home now.

With Ridge Homes a family can own the home they want for as little cash as one month's rent. Yes, one month's rent! You'll find the whole exciting story in the new Ridge Homes Booklet, "Planning, Choosing, and Building the home that's right for your family." . . . It's 88 colorful pages of pure inspiration . . . In it you'll read an article written by Francis Reers, a typical Ridge customer, who tells how he built his own Ridge home with hardly any out-of-pocket cash at all. And Francis Reers isn't alone. Thousands of Ridge families got their dream homes the exact same way . . . and your family can do it too!

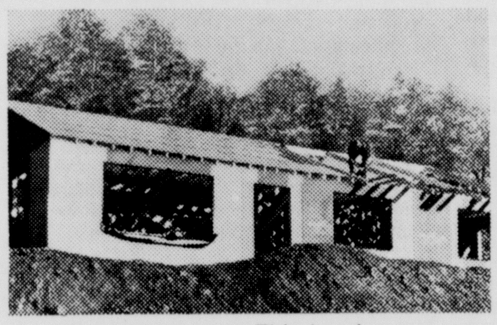

Ridge Homes is the reason.

Who is Ridge Homes? We're one of the country's largest home manufacturers. And now there's a Ridge Homes dealer here, too. In a nutshell, what Ridge offers is a program that helps people of moderate income get the exact home they've always wanted. Nearly 25,000 satisfied Ridge homeowners are proof that our program works. Even when mortgage money is tight, more families than ever build Ridge homes.

A Ridge manufactured home is a better home and a better value.

Like the car you drive and the clothes you wear, your Ridge home is a result of the most modern, large-scale production techniques available. Each component part is precision-cut at the Ridge plant, then shipped to the homesite in two stages. First come the materials and components for the weatherproof exterior, which is erected on the foundation by skilled professionals. Then, after that is erected, the interior finishing materials arrive. Unlike homes built the old-fashioned way, a Ridge home gives you consistent quality, efficiency and low cost. This is why a manufactured home is the best answer for so many families. In fact, by 1975, about half of all new homes will be factory-produced!

You make a Ridge home exactly what you want it to be.

What's your pleasure? Rancher? Bi-level? You'll find it among Ridge Homes' basic models. Then that dream starts coming true. Your Ridge home will be tailor-made for you thanks to the hundreds of features and options you can choose from. At no extra charge you can change the floor plan . . . choose the exterior design . . . select your kitchen, bathroom fixtures, color scheme . . . everything! The choice is entirely yours!

Save thousands by doing some of the work yourself.

Can you swing a hammer? Or handle a saw? Then you can save yourself up to $4,000 on your new Ridge home by doing some of the interior finishing work yourself. We'll take care of the tough jobs for you. Like the foundation and weatherproof exterior. Then you can finish up as much of the interior as you want. Or as little. And your Ridge dealer will be right there if you need any help or professional advice. Thousands of families helped build their own Ridge homes this way, and ended up with more home than they ever thought they could afford.

Yes, Ridge even has mortgage money.

When you build with Ridge you don't have to worry about getting a mortgage. We have our own financial resources and financing plans to help people build their new homes. So stop saving for that new home. And start planning to build it . . . today!

Now you should see our Magazine. There's a free copy waiting at your Ridge dealer's.

Now that you know something about Ridge, maybe you'd like to know more. Okay. Visit your Ridge dealer. He'll give you your free copy of the 88-page Ridge Homes Magazine, "Planning, Choosing, and Building the home that's right for your family." You'll see all 35 Ridge home models, decorator ideas, do-it-yourself tips, choices and options galore . . . and, of course, the feature article written by a man who built his Ridge home with less cash than a month's rent! And his story's not at all unusual. So get your free magazine at your Ridge dealer's. Or mail the coupon. It's your first big step toward making your dream home come true.

Fayette Airport News

By JUDY DENNIS

We have been blessed with beautiful Spring weather, and the students have really kept Bill flying. Following are just some of the highlights of the past two weeks.

Mrs. Helen Ogden of Kentucky visited our airport and rented a plane for some Sunday morning flying. Mrs. Ogden travels, and as her hobby, trys the fly at all the different places she visits. She stated she visited Hawaii, recently, and tried her wings in the tropical paradise. Mrs. Ogden was in Fayette County as the weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Kirk.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Pendergraft and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Thompson flew to Urbana for Sunday lunch, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith were also flying their Bonanza.

Keith Houghton received his instrument rating, and took off for his home at Tipton, Kas. Keith had been with us since November and went home with his commercial rating, multi-engine rating, instrument rating and instructor's recommendation. He plans to complete his flight test for his instructor's rating in Kansas.

Bill flight-tested Tom Preston and issued him a commercial license. Tom is now working on his instructor's rating and will go to Cincinnati for his flight-test the latter part of this month.

Rod Scott and Paul Rodenfels flew Paul's Cessna to Galion on business, and the Aerostar for the K-D Manufacturing Co. came in from Lancaster, Pa.

Bill flight-tested four students from other airports and issued them private licenses. The four were Ron Moore and Lester King from Greene County, Lester Rock, Madison County, and Bruce Hawk, Portsmouth.

Two gentlemen from Oregon stopped in to refuel their Tri-Pacer. They stated they had really covered a lot of territory flying from Oregon to Florida and Washington, D. C., before stopping here on their journey home.

Bob Sowers was doing commercial student flying with his little son, and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Mathias went on a short cross-country flight in our Cherokee. Deane Carter and Owen Prince each made cross-country flights in their jointly owned Skyhawk, and Roger Free, Frankfort, received an introductory ride from Bill in one of the trainers. Mr. and Mrs. Tim Vehenkamp also went for a Saturday afternoon flight in the Cherokee.

We enrolled Larry Hagler and Martha Rockhold as new students, and are happy to have them join the gang. They each have two hours flying time logged. Other students receiving instruction were Bruce Denen, Marilee Carter, Owen Prince and Deane Carter. Also, Jim Vess went on his dual cross-country flight with Bill, and then made the same trip solo, the next day.

Other students flying solo were Charlie Dodds, Louie Poole, Gary Meyers, Deane Carter and Owen Prince. Commercial students flying were Jack Patton, Ron Fitzwater, Tom Romph and Jim Roberds. We are also happy to report that Charlie Dodds passed his private pilot written examination and Jim Roberds passed his commercial written.

Fred Domenico and John Hardin sold their Cherokee 180, which went to Waverly, and Paul Stuckey's Apache was purchased by an Akron man.

Paul Wisecup and his children returned from a flight to Michigan, where they spent the weekend fishing, and Paul Crosby and Maurice Hopkins flew to Marysville on business. Eric Givens and Kathy Peterson of Frankfort went for a ride in one of our Cessans. Eric learned to fly while he was working as a line boy at our Ross County Airport. It was Kathy's first flight, and she stated she thoroughly enjoyed it.

Our weekend was somewhat marred by the emergency landing of a twin-engine mail plane, late Friday night. The plane experienced engine problems while flying from Cleveland to Lexington, Ky., and was advised by Dayton Radio to land at our field. The plane "bellied in" without the landing gear down, doing extensive damage. However, the pilot did an excellent job of bringing the plane in without injury to himself or the heavy load of mail he was carrying. We were notified of the accident at one o'clock in the morning, and Bill spent the rest of the night at the airport with the pilot awaiting the arrival of the postal authorities and Federal Aviation authorities.

This covers most of the flying news of the preceding days, so I'll wrap this up for now. It's been nice sharing our activities with you.

Speaking of Your Health...

Vitamin E and Its Hoopla

No one can tell us definitely if there is any validity to the claims being made about Vitamin E.

With all the rave notices Vitamin E gets in the papers and magazines, one would believe that it is the answer to all ills.

Is it?

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. W., Calif.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. W.:

Vitamin E is actually a group of vitamins known as "tocopherols."

This vitamin seems to have captured the attention of many enthusiasts, with and without proper scientific portfolio.

The highest concentration of Vitamin E exists in foods like nuts, wheat germ, lettuce, and some forms of beef.

The importance of Vitamin E to health is strangely recognized more by its deficiencies than by its value in nutrition. It is known that Vitamin E deficiency can affect fertility and changes within the uterus and the entire reproductive system.

There are these who are so entranced by the mystique of Vitamin E that they give to it almost supernatural powers, such as preventing and curing cancer, heart disease and psoriasis, delaying the process of aging, and restoring the virtility of the lost fountain of youth.

And these are but a few of the values ascribed to Vitamin E.

I do believe that a sensible composite vitamin supplement may be of value, especially to those whose diets are inadequate.

I do not believe, however, that there is any real scientific reason for such over-concentration on this vitamin whose value is yet unsubstantiated in the treatment and cure of recognized diseases.

A patient of mine, in fact, did himself great injustice by his long delay in seeking medical advice. A condition that might have been controllable had gotten completely out of hand during the four months that he devoted to his self-prescribed high doses of Vitamin E.

When, by chemical studies, Vitamin E deficiency is established by the doctor, he will suggest the exact dosage for replacement.

They'll Do It Every Time

Contract Bridge ♠♥♦♣ B. Jay Becker

Test Your Play

1. You are declarer with the West hand at Six Diamonds and North leads the ace and another spade. How would you play the hand?

	♠ Q ♥ 8 2 ♦ AKJ10 5 ♣ AKQ64
♠ K54 ♥ AQJ6 ♦ Q92 ♣ 853	N W E S

2. You are declarer with the West hand at Three Notrump and North leads the king of spades. How would you play the hand?

	♠ AJ4 ♥ A74 ♦ KQ73 ♣ A10 9
♠ 82 ♥ 632 ♦ AJ5 ♣ QJ862	N W E S

1. The danger is that the clubs may be divided 4-1, in which case, if you were to discard a heart on the king of spades at trick two, you would very likely finish down one.

The best method play is to ruff the second spade lead, draw trumps and play the A-K of clubs. If both opponents follow suit you have the rest of the tricks, but, if etiher opponent shows out on the second club lead, you still have a heart finesse or two to fall back on to save the day. Thus, you would make the slam by the suggested line of play if North held:

♠ A 10 9 8
♥ K 10 9 7
♦ 7 6 4 3
♣ 9

but would go down if you made the mistake of discarding a heart on the king of spades at trick two.

2. Win the spade with the ace, enter dummy with a diamond, lead the queen of clubs and finesse. If the finesse loses, ten tricks become certain, If the finesse wins, repeat it. This method of play succeeds regardless of how the clubs are divided.

If you were to duck the king of spades — a play often made in similar circumstances — you would be courting disaster. Thus, suppose North shifted to the jack of hearts — on which South played the queen. You would then be in danger of defeat whether or not you took the queen, and could go down if North had the king of clubs.

You can guarantee the contract against every possible contingency by winning the opening spade lead. That is a good enough reason for taking the first trick.

2 persons injured in car-truck crash

A Washington C. H. couple was injured Friday morning when their car traveled left of center and collided with a truck on U. S. 35 at the Ohio 753 interhchange, the Sheriff's Department reported.

The crash was one of six investigated locally by police and sheriff's deputies.

Injured in the 6:15 a.m. crash were Juanita M. Deering, 57, of 1027 S. Main St., driver of the car, and her husband, Howard Deering, 67. Mrs. Deering suffered a leg injury, and her husband received a lacerated forehead. Both were taken to Memorial Hospital where they were treated and released.

Investigating officers said the 1966 model Deering compact was southbound on U. S. 35 when it went left of center on a left curve. The car collided with the left side of a northbound truck driven by Dale W. Shumaker, 46, Bainbridge.

Shumaker and his son, a passenger in the truck, both escaped injury.

The crash caused heavy damage to both vehicles. Mrs. Deering was cited for driving left of center.

SHERIFF'S DEPUTIES charged Larry D. Funk, 19, Rt. 4, with speed excessive for road conditions Friday morning after his car ran off Parrott Station Road, hit two trees and clipped off a utility pole.

According to investigating officers Funk's eastbound car ran off the left side of the rain-slicked pavement as it came out of a slight curve and skinned two trees before ramming into the utility pole, snapping it off. The 1966 model car came to rest headed westbound.

Damage to the car was heavy.

Other mishaps were:

POLICE

THURSDAY, 10:49 a.m. — Cars driven by Ray C. Mershon, 78, of 140 N. Oakland Ave., and Jessie I. Sexton, 68, Rt. 2, were involved in a minor crash on Main Street, just north of Court Street; damage slight.

Florida slave labor camp discovered by policemen

DRIVER CITED — Sheriff's deputies cited Larry D. Funk, 19, Rt. 4, for speed excessive for road conditions Friday morning after he lost control of his car and crashed into a utility pole on Parrott Station Road, about a mile west of Ohio 41. The car skinned two trees and was off the pavement for 140 feet before clipping off the power pole. Electricity in the area was out a short time due to the 7:10 a.m. mishap. See relative story on Page 20.

Captive workers are freed

HOMESTEAD, Fla. (AP) — "If he catch you, he'll beat you and bring you back," migrant worker Charles Bryant said of what happened to anyone who tried to escape the work gang of his boss.

Bryant, 41, one of 27 workers freed by police Thursday from what was described as a slave labor camp, said his boss "had an order that you couldn't go anywhere."

Joe Williams, 55, told police a fellow laborer who tried to escape was beaten until "he just held his head and cried like a baby."

Police reported that many of the migrants at the camp near here said Joe L. Brown and Lafayette Matthew held the traveling work crew by force, threats and indebtedness for as long as four years.

A Dade County sheriff's detective said the workers "were being held against their will and were being held as slaves."

Brown, 35, and Matthew, 27, were charged with false imprisonment and conspiracy to commit a felony.

Fred Diaz of the county Migrant Health Clinic, said the men were in generally poor health. "There is a suspicion of tuberculosis with some, others have slight pneumonia, liver disorders, heart conditions. Most are malnourished. Some have bloody abcesses," he said.

Police said they went to the camp to investigate an unrelated assault and told the workers to stay around because they would be needed as witnesses.

Officers moved the laborers to a nearby hotel after Robert Washington told them "You don't have to worry about us staying here. We can't leave."

James Ralph, 45, said he was recruited by Brown four years ago and ever since he has been in debt to his boss.

"Every week I'd be owing him $100, $200," said Ralph. "I don't know what I owed him for. That's what he had on the books."

The workers range in age from 22 to 65 and included 26 men and one woman. Police said they came from a number of southern states and traveled from state to state in a bus owned by Brown. Police said Brown and Matthew and all but one of the workers are black.

Police said Brown was carrying $43,785 in small bills in a blue tape-cassette box that he took from his 1973 Cadillac.

Brown was freed on $50,000 bond. Matthews remained in jail.

City to launch clean-up campaign

A clean-up campaign, aimed at beautifying the city and creating an "atmosphere for progress," will be inaugurated Monday, according to City Manager Dan Wolford.

The campaign is partially in response to calls for action toward making Washington C.H. a cleaner city by members of City Council.

Starting Monday, the campaign will be in its voluntary phase. "From Monday through March 31, we are asking all residents and businesses to clean up voluntarily," Wolford said Friday. He said property owners would not be presecuted during this grace period.

During this two-week period, policemen and other city employes will be surveying the city and filing reports on unsightly areas in Washington C.H. "We'll be building a complete file on the subject," said Wolford. "After March 31, the city will be involved pretty heavily" in persuading property owners to eliminate junk, trash and refuse that blemishes the city.

Violators of city refuse ordinances who haven't cleaned up their property after March 31 will be subject to prosecution.

VC free 32 POWs

CLARK AIR BASE, Philippines (AP) — The Viet Cong released 32 more American prisoners of war today, and the senior officer in the group thanked President Nixon for ordering the bombing of Hanoi and Haiphong last December.

Air Force Col. Theodore W. Guy of Tucson, Ariz., told a welcoming crowd at Clark Air Base he has no doubts that the heavy bombing of North Vietnam's two main cities helped hasten the end of the war.

"We are grateful that we had a President that made those decisions," said Guy, 43. He was captured when his Phantom fighter-bomber was downed during a strike mission over Laos on March 22, 1968.

"Dignity, honor and love of country are three things that most of us treasured and thought of for many years," Guy said. "On behalf of the men in this group, I would like to thank the President of the United States, Mr. Nixon, for bringing us home with this dignity and honor."

His words were in sharp contrast to antiwar and antimilitary statements attributed to a dozen of the men in the group by Communist broadcasts since 1968. However, all came off the plane smartly, saluted the colors and were cheered by the crowd.

A U.S. Air Force hospital plane brought Guy, 26 other military prisoners and five civilians from Hanoi. At Clark Air Base they joined 108 POWs released by North Vietnam on Wednesday and two Vietnam war fliers freed by Communist China Thursday.

The men freed Wednesday will begin leaving for the United States Saturday, and most of the 142 freed this week are expected to be home early next week.

Others freed today included the POW held longest in Vietnam, Maj. Floyd J. Thompson, 39, of Hudson, Mass., who was captured on March 26, 1964, and Philip W. Manhard, 51, of the State Department, the senior U.S. civilian captured during the war.

The latest returnees brought the total number of Americans released by the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong since the Vietnam cease-fire Jan. 28 to 439. Another 140 servicemen and seven civilians in Communist hands are to be freed by March 28, the 60-day deadline set by the peace agreement.

Solons shy from Nixon challenge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Judiciary Committee members are showing no disposition to take President Nixon to court for refusing to let his official lawyer testify on the nomination of L. Patrick Gray III to be FBI director.

"The committee has other action it can take," said Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., a member of the panel.

He said, for example, that the committee could simply tell Nixon it would not act on Gray's nomination unless White House Counsel John W. Dean III appears for questioning.

Nixon said Thursday he does not believe the committee would hold Gray "hostage," but the members appear closely divided. The issue may come to a vote next week.

Ervin not only is a Judiciary Committee member but chairman of a committee created by the Senate to investigate the Watergate bugging and other alleged political espionage and sabotage in last year's presidential election.

All indications are that if an attempt is made to compel Dean's testimony, it will be done by Ervin's committee in the Watergate investigation, rather than by the Judiciary Committee in its consideration of Gray's nomination.

"If we are going to have this confrontation, I'd rather face it with the select committee," Ervin said. Other senators also said Ervin's committee would be the preferred battleground.

At a news conference Thursday, Nixon said he would not allow Dean to testify at any congressional hearing and invited a Supreme Court test of his stand on executive privilege.

"If the Senate feels they want a court test, we would welcome it," he said.

Although Dean, at the President's direction, declined the Judiciary Committee's invitation to testify on Gray's nomination, he offered to answer relevant questions submitted in writing.

The only way the committee could force a court test would be to subpoena Dean and then, if he refused to appear, seek to have the Senate cite him for contempt.

This is just what Ervin said he proposes to do if Nixon refuses to let Dean testify at the forthcoming Watergate investigation. Ervin said Dean would be "a very relevant witness" at his committee's hearings.

"If we get any information that any White House aide has any knowledge relevant to this investigation," Ervin said, "I will certainly recommend to the committee he be subpoenaed and if he fails to appear or refuses to give information after appearing, I will recommend to the Senate he be judged in contempt of Congress."

Ohio electric utility firms given deadline on pollution

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— The Ohio Environmental Protection Agency has announced plans to bring the state's major electrical utility plants into compliance with emission standards by July, 1975.

State EPA Director Ira Whitman also revealed at a news conference in Cleveland Thursday that the state may bring criminal charges against the Republic Steel Corp. Republic Steel officials had no immediate response to Whitman's charge that the firm failed to initiate required cutbacks during an air pollution alert in Cleveland two weeks ago.

Whitman said the "compliance schedules" were issued to 14 electric plants, representative of the state's seven major utility groups, in order to force a confrontation on the utilities' argument that the standards are technologically impossible to comply with.

In part, the problem was complicated by the plants' using high-sulfur Ohio coal as fuel, Whitman said, although he said the state EPA was not convinced the requirements could not be met.

He admitted that if the companies demonstrate during the next six months that the standards are indeed out of reach that the state would seek other answers, possibly to include asking the federal government to waive the air standards in Ohio.

"The wisdom of our decisions can be challenged, but the impossible cannot be made possible," he conceded. But he added: "We will push to the wall to achieve the possible."

Whitman took a hard line on the Repubic Steel case, insisting that the state EPA was "not totally satisfied with the response of Republic Steel during the recent alert. In addition, it is my understanding that they never submitted" a contingency plan due Aug. 15, 1972.

The electrical plants issued compliance schedules include four of Cleveland Electrical Illuminating Co., three of Ohio Edison, three of American Electric Power, and one apiece from Dayton Power & Light, Columbus & Southern Ohio, Cincinnati Gas and Electric and Toledo Edison.

Specifically, the plants were CEI's Ashtabula, Lake Shore, Avon Lake and Eastlake plants; CG&E's Miami Fort; OE's Sammis, Toronto and R. E. Berger; TE's Bay Shore; AEP's Tidd, Cardinal and Philo; C&SO's Conesville, and DP&L's Frank M. Tait.

U.S. prepares Peking office

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will send an advance team to Peking within two to three weeks to prepare for the May 1 opening of a liaison office headed by senior diplomat David K.E. Bruce.

The five-man team, headed by Chinese-speaking experts, will include communications and building specialists who will prepare the quarters of the first American diplomatic outpost on the Chinese mainland.

President Nixon announced the latest appointment for Bruce, 75, a former ambassador to Britain, Germany, France and the Vietnam peace talks in Paris, at a news conference Thursday.

"I thought it was very important to appoint a man of great stature to this position. The Chinese accepted that view themselves, and we expect soon to hear from them as to the appointment of the man they will have as his opposite number here in Washington."

The President also stressed he regards the opening of a liaison office as "the beginning, we trust, of a longer journey—a journey in which we will have our differences, but one in which the most populous nation of the world and the United States of America can work together, where their interests coincide, for the cause of peace and better relations in the Pacific and in the world."

Speculation on whom China might appoint to the Washington post centered on Chiao K'uan-hua, the vice foreign minister and a man close to Premier Chou En-lai; Chang Wen-chin, assistant foreign minister and an expert on American and European affairs, and Marshal Yeh Chiehying, acting minister of defense.

Senate bill attacks late health payments

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Medical care providers waiting months for millions owed them by the state could hold back their taxes under a bill now pending in the Ohio Senate.

Sen. Harry L. Armstrong, R-17 Logan, introduced the bill Thursday on behalf of doctors, hospitals, dentists, pharmacists, and others owed by the state for helping the medically indigent under the federal Medicaid program.

The Welfare Department is several months behind on payments totaling more than $30 million as a result of clerical problems and the conversion in the department to a new computer system. The department says it is now catching up.

Under Armstrong's bill, the providers could deduct amounts owed them from any state tax they pay which goes into the state's general fund—primarily the income tax.

The veteran senator said he doesn't know about the department's clerical problems, but that he does know one hospital "that's going broke."

He said the small hospital in southern Ohio is owed $100,000 by the state. "There are doctors and dentists in the same position. They need to be paid," Armstrong said.

His bill was among 25 introduced in the Senate and House before the lawmakers adjourned floor sessions until next Tuesday. The House plans a floor vote that day on bills adding one judge each to the Lorain and Elyria Municipal Courts, and to provide four-year terms for presidents of municipal councils.

House Speaker A.G. Lancione, D-99 Bellaire, announced that the House will vote March 28 on the highly-publicized and controversial women's equal rights amendment. He had indicated earlier that it would be brought up next week.

Rep. Michael P. Stinziano, D-30 Columbus, the main sponsor, announced plans for the House debate on the issue to be carried live by Ohio State University's WOSU radio station. The freshman lawmaker said the broadcast, which could last four or five hours, is "unprecedented" in Ohio legislative history.

Meanwhile, opponents of the proposed constitutional amendment to prohibit discrimination on the basis of sex, started a campaign for its defeat in the House.

Rep. Thomas P. Gilmartin, D-51 Youngstown, issued a statement saying that his "no" vote on the proposal will "not be a megative vote, it is a very positive vote." Gilmartin, who voted against the amendment in the State Government Committee, added:

"The proponents have failed to show me how this will benefit the average housewife, who, in my estimation, is the very heart and key to our society."

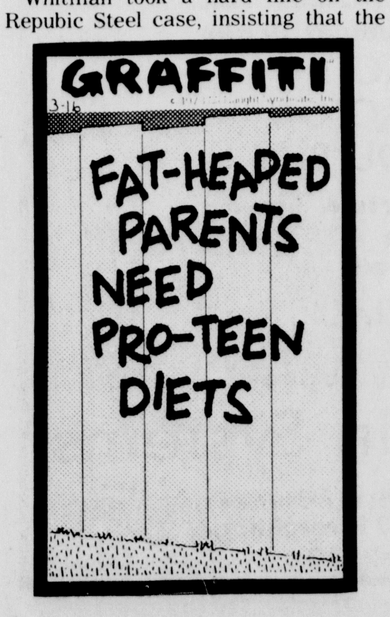

Three bills were up for floor action Thursday, and all passed in their respective chambers. The Senate voted 30-1 to allow members of local school boards to also serve on boards of joint vocational school districts.

Approved by lopsided margins in the House were measures to lift a $2,000 limit on township cemetery levies and to exempt certain medical supplies and accessories from the state sales tax.

Rep. Joseph P. Tulley, R-59 Mentor, introduced a bill allowing Ohioans to purchase $50 worth of clothing a year without paying the state sales tax. He said clothing is the last of the necessities that is not exempt from the tax and that his bill would partially exempt it.

"The sales tax law presently exempts food, shelter, utilities, medical care, and prescriptions from the sales tax, but clothing has remained taxable," he said. Tulley said his measure would "give our less fortunate citizens a very real tax break."

Other new House bills would provide for the acquisition of Lake Erie shore lands, for the management of Lake Erie shore lands, and for maintenance by the state of expressways inside municipal limits.

Weather

A flash flood watch is in effect for the southeast and east central counties until 10 a.m. Saturday. Rain likely tonight, possibly heavy at times. Lows tonight in the upper 30s to the mid 40s. Rain changing to showers Saturday with a chance of flurries north, highs in the mid 40s to the mid 50s.

Scali lashes Cuban attack on U.S. policy in Panama

PANAMA (AP) — U.S. Ambassador John Scali took a relaxed attitude Thursday night toward criticism of the United States by his Panamian hosts, but lashed back at a Cuban attack during the special U.N. Security Council meeting being held in Panama.

Foreign Minister Raul Roa of Cuba told the council the United States aspires to maintain "Green Beret factories" in the Panama Canal Zone. He characterized the United States as a nation with "clawing and perfidious appetites" around the world.

"The highest aspiration of the Panamanian people was always that of a canal for humanity and not for an acquatic monoply, a canal flanked by shipyards and factories, not by military bases and Green Beret factories," Roa declared.

Using his right of reply, Scali, in his debut before the council, called the Cuban "a self appointed spokesman of a people whose condition must arouse pity in us all.

"His accusations are so wild and reckless that they are unworthy of reply," President Nixon's new chief delegate to the U.N. said.

Scali's remarks were in marked contrast to his comments to newsmen on the welcoming speech earlier by Panama's strongman, Brig. Gen. Omar Torrijos. Setting the theme for the week-long council meeting, the first ever held in Latin America, the general accused the United States of maintaining a colonialist enclave in the heart of Panama.

"We ask the moral support of the world here present in this fight which is now reaching the limits of the patience of our people," Torrijos declared.

Scali said he was a "bit surprised" by the sharpness of the general's words.

"We hope he urges his people to cool it," he added. "The patience of his people is directly related to what he says."

Peru's foreign minister, Brig. Gen. Miguel Angel de la Flor, also joined in the attack on the United States. He blamed it for social and economic "frustrations" in Latin America and accused it of economic aggression in the region.

Nixon ponders U.S. action against Viet red infiltration

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon could order a range of military actions short of renewed bombing of North Vietnam and still back up his statement that he will not stand for major Communist infiltration of South Vietnam.

In taking a hard line Thursday, Nixon gave no hint of what move he might make if his warning against continued violation of the cease-fire agreement is ignored by Hanoi.

The President did not foreclose the possibility of sending U.S. bombers back over the North, but there are a number of important deterrents to this.

For one thing, the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong could hold back the remaining U.S. war prisoners as hostages.

For another, the North Vietnamese have strengthened their anti-aircraft defenses since the Jan. 27 cease-fire and any new U.S. raids almost certainly would cost the United States more planes and fresh casualties, including additional POWs.

The political consequences of a renewed war with North Vietnam are incalculable. But it would be logical to expect a severe reaction from the nation and the Congress, which have come to believe the long and costly Indochina war is over for the United States.

Pentagon officials stressed what one of them called "practical options" for military action without bombing North Vietnam again.

U.S. war planes could be unleashed once more to strike at the Ho Chi Minh trail, the main infiltration network running through southern Laos toward South Vietnam. American jets have been withheld from bombing the trail since late February.

American bombers also could be ordered to strike at the Laotian end of the key passes leading out of North Vietnam into the Ho Chi Minh trail.

Also, American air power could be sent once more against Communist targets in South Vietnam, including the region just below the DMZ where the North Vietnamese are reported to have crossed with reinforcements and supplies since the cease-fire, which banned such movements.

Burger Brewery to close; will stay in pop business

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— Burger Beer, one of Cincinnati's three remaining home-owned breweries has closed its doors, but will remain in the lucrative soft drink business.

Officials gave no reasons for closing at midnight, but it was noted that outside competitors have been making inroads into the local beer business.

A meeting of all employes, including 140 brewery workers whose contract ran out with the closing, was scheduled for 3 p.m. today, according to President Edward Koons Jr.

The demise of Burger leaves only Schoenling and Hudepohl breweries still operating in the city that at the turn of the century boasted of 260.

Prohibition killed most of them, although 26 were operating in the early 1930s when beer came back.

The George Wiedemann Brewery, in nearby Newport, Ky., is now owned by a national chain.

No plans were announced for Burger's massive, block-long brewery.

Burger began during prohibition, selling malt for "home brew," and began producing beer with the end of prohibition.

Burger grew to a national product during the 1940s and 1950s and for 20 years sponsored radio broadcasts of the Cincinnati Reds baseball games with former New York Yankee pitcher Waite Hoyt calling the play-by-play.

Burger President J. F. Koons said the firm would continue in the soft drink business which has been "increasing in sales about $1 million a year."

"We are in 11 counties in Ohio and a large part of Florida with four manufacturing plants and 10 warehouses," he said.

The firm bottles Pepsi and Dr. Pepper products plus a number of other soft drink lines. All executives will remain with the company, he said.

'Dirty float' of currency in works

PARIS (AP) — U. S. Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz and 14 other finance ministers meet again in Paris today, but whatever they decide, there is going to be a "dirty float" of all major currencies.

For the second Friday in a row the ministers were meeting to see if they could agree on ways to stabilize the relationship between the dollar and other currencies. In between, Shultz has been consulting in Moscow and Bonn.

Plans emerged Monday to let the value of the most important West European currencies fluctuate on world markets against the dollar and the yen without maximum and minimum limits on the fluctuation. This is called floating, and it would be a "clean float" if the governments and central banks sat still and let the law of supply and demand determine the rates of exchange.

Instead, the European monetary authorities made plain that they will go into the market from time to time to "guide" the rates by trading sufficient sums of one currency against another. That is called a "dirty float."

Before the system of fixed rates broke down on March 2, the central banks had no option about going into the market to buy dollars. They had to do it whenever the rate dropped below a certain fixed amount.

Speculators and money managers all over the world took advantage of the fact that the West German Bundesbank had promised to buy all dollars offered, at a floor rate of 2.835 marks, and that the French, Belgian and Dutch central banks made similar promises.

3rd child in family dies of rare heart disease

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — "This is the way Susan died," Kim Bradley said to his mother as he looked up from his hospital bed.

A few minutes later Kim became the third child of John and Mary Bradley to die of a rare, incurable heart disease called primary pulmonary hypertension.

Kim, 15, had suffered 10 heart attacks.

Doctors at Tallahassee Memorial Hospital said the boy died Thursday without fear, even though he had known for four years the disease would allow him only a short lifespan.

"We just tried to teach him to live one day at a time," said John Bradley, 39. "Do you have any plans for next week? I don't. I'm living for today. We tried to teach Kim to live that way too."

In 1958, the Bradleys' first child, Susan, died of the disease at the age of 3. Three years later, it claimed 2-year-old Linda.

Kim suffered "five major heart attacks and five minor ones over the past four years," said Bradley, a pipefitter at Florida State University. "If we woke up in the morning and everything was all right, then we made plans for that day. If it wasn't all right, then we prepared for the worst."

"We're pretty sure Mary Faith won't be affected by the disease. The doctors said the odds against one member of a family getting it are 1,000-to-1, and the odds against two getting it are way higher," Bradley said.

Storms spread misery over deep south

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy thunderstorms crackled across the South from Texas to the Carolinas today, accompanied by tornadoes, hail and driving rain.

Otherwise, for the most part, skies were cloudy in the East and fair in the West.

Violent snowstorms in South Dakota and a twister in Tennessee on Thursday were blamed for three deaths and a number of injuries.

A soldier's body was discovered outside the main gate of Ellsworth Air Force Base, S.D., by an emergency crew plowing snow drifts. An employe of a South Dakota utility company was found dead in his truck, presumably from carbon-monoxide poisoning.

In Sparta, Tenn., the body of a night watchman at a manufacturing plant was found under tons of debris left by a twister that raked parts of White County in eastern Tennessee.

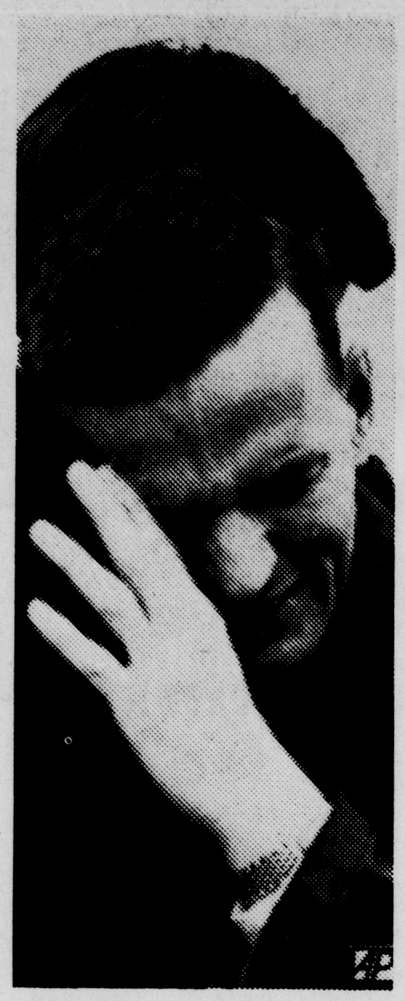

Tornadoes and a funnel cloud were sighted over Mississippi on Thursday, and hail pelted Greenwood, La. A tornado watch remained in effect today for parts of Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama.

Flash-flood watches were issued for parts of Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama. Muscle Shoals, Ala., was soaked more than two inches of rain during the night.

Families in low-lying areas of the flooding Missouri and Meramec rivers near St. Louis began returning to their homes Thursday.

Sandbagging of levees continued at St. Charles and West Alton, both in Missouri, the latter near the mouth of the Missouri, where it was more than 7½ feet out of its banks.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 15 at Casper, Wyo., to 78 at New Orleans, La.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Rain and possible rising water levels in western Lake Erie were in the Ohio weather picture as described today by the National Weather Service. It also noted cooler weather is on the way.

The Ohio weather story:

Cloudiness increased across Ohio during the night and a few showers have begun to spread into the southern counties. An intensifying storm centered over Mississippi is expected to move to the northeast and reach the upper Ohio Valley by this evening. This system will cause rain that could become heavy at times to spread across all of Ohio by early afternoon.

A few thundershowers are also possible in the south today and tonight. As the storm center approaches the state winds will increase from the east and northeast. This may cause water levels to rise in western Lake Erie this afternoon and tonight and poses a threat of flooding along the lake.

By 6 a.m. Friday temperatures around the state ranged from the low 40s in the northeast to the mid 50s along the Ohio River. Highs today will be restricted somewhat by a heavy cloud cover and by rain. High readings are forecast to reach the mid 50s to lower 60s this afternoon.

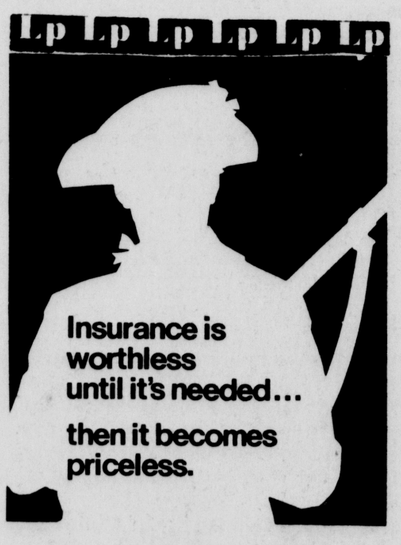

Cooler weather is on the way and lows tonight will probably sink into the upper 30s to mid 40s with rain continuing tonight and gradually tapering off to showers Saturday.

West Virginia mines are idled

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — At least 3,000 miners in four southern West Virginia counties remained idled by wildcat strikes today, despite federal court orders and pleas by the United Mine Workers to end the mushrooming walkouts.

Industry sources said the strike has closed more than two dozen mines in Wyoming, Mercer, Boone and McDowell counties.

Included are at least 18 Consolidation Coal Co. mines, the four-mine complex of the Itmann Coal Co. in Wyoming County, three Bishop Co. coal mines in McDowell County and two Eastern Associated Coal Corp. mines.

Stock list starts rally

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices slipped early today, then began to rally strongly behind reports of an impending agreement at the Paris meetings on world monetary strategy.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was down 3.38 at 966.44 after having been off more than 7 points a short while earlier. But losers still held a wide 804 to 310 edge on gainers on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said investors seemed to be viewing the monetary talks with extreme caution. "It looks like a continuation of the wait-and-see attitude," said William Nelson of Moody's Investors Service. "The problem is the not knowing and the uncertainty. There's no precedent to tie it to."

Reds accuse United States of violations

SAIGON (AP) — The Communists counter-charged today that the United States is shipping war material into South Vietnam without its undergoing the inspection required by the cease-fire agreement.

The Viet Cong asked for an explanation, and the U.S. delegation said it was preparing a reply.

Lt. Gen. Tran Van Tra, chief of the Viet Cong delegation to the Joint Military Commission, made the accusation in a letter to the senior U.S. representative, Maj. Gen. Gilbert H. Woodward.

President Nixon on Thursday accused North Vietnam of major shipments of troops and war materials into South Vietnam in violation of the ceasefire and implied that the United States might resume bombing of such traffic if it did not stop.

Pham Duong Hien, a Saigon government spokesman, said today that these shipments also were endangering the Saigon-Viet Cong political negotiations scheduled to open in Paris Monday.

Tra wrote Woodward that "according to many foreign sources, the United States has recently introduced on many occasions armaments, munitions and war material into South Vietnam. The military delegation of the Provisional Revolutionary Government considers this a violation of Article 7 of the agreement and Article 7 of the protocol."

Dear Abby:

The past has left its mark on her

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a 16-year-old girl who has had two illegitimate children which I gave up for adoption. I am sorry to say that I am pregnant again, and I plan to give this one up for adoption too, because the father of my children can't marry me. He was sent to prison, then I found out he had a wife and five kids he never told me about, so maybe it's just as well that things worked out this way.

I want to put my past behind me and start a new life, Abby, but here is my problem. I have very bad stretch marks on my stomach as a result of my pregnancies. They look terrible and I want to get rid of them.

I have been advised that if I meet someone who wants to marry me I should not mention my past, but with these stretch marks it would be a dead giveaway. Also, I would like to be able to wear a two-piece bathing suit. Can you help me? Or am I . . .

SCARRED FOR LIFE

DEAR SCARRED: A plastic surgeon cantell you if your stretch marks can be removed. And in the meantime you had better learn how to take care of yourself. I think you've been stretching your luck too far.

DEAR ABBY: I am so worried about my grandson who is 14. Tonight his mother telephoned me long distance in such a weakened state I could hardly understand her. Her 14-year-old son had struck her and beaten her violently with his fists. In the past he has lied and stolen from her, but no amount of punishment helped. Tonight he all but put my poor daughter in the hospital.

She has two children. The little girl is an angel, but this boy is, I fear, a mental case when angered. He is big and strong for his age and I am afraid one day he will seriously injure or kill some member of the family. Both children are adopted (different parents) could it be hereditary? Please tell me how I can help her? Her husband travels a great deal and she cannot handle the boy.

HEARTSICK

DEAR HEARTSICK: Tell your daughter to get in touch with her local Mental Health Association, or the County Child Welfare Department, and arrange to have her son psychiatrically evaluated. Assure her that she would not be punishing the boy; she would be helping a desperately sick lad.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow with a darling, affectionate little seven-year-old daughter. A very nice gentleman I met at work asked to take me out for dinner, and I was thrilled to pieces. When he came to pick me up my little girl hung on his neck and said, "Are you going to be my new daddy?"

The gentleman turned red in the face and said, "Well, we have to be going now." I could see he was embarrassed and upset, and even though I enjoyed the evening and he seemed to, he has never asked me out again.

What can I do to save the relationship?

26-YEAR-OLD WIDOW

DEAR WIDOW: You could invite him to accompany you to something, but if he appears reluctant, don't press it. And if you don't want to scare off future prospects, you'd better tell your little girl what not to say.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FULL OF PIMPLES": Surely you jest! The advice of your more "experienced" friends on how to get rid of pimples is worse than worthless. It's dangerous. Forget it, or you could find yourself with something much worse than pimples.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to AB-BY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stampsed self-addressed envelopes, please.

Accident case delayed; youth deteriorating

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— The case of a Cincinnati youth, accused of the deaths of five high school girls in a car wreck, has been taken under advisement because of the youth's deteriorating physical condition.

Hamilton County Juvenile Court Judge Benjamin S. Schwartz said Benjamin W. Dasenbrock appeared in a wheel chair Wednesday. He suffered hip and leg injuries in the Oct. 21, 1972 crash and may face amputation.

Dasenbrock earlier testified he had been drinking beer prior to the accident in which his car struck another containing the girls.

Dasenbrock's airborne car sheared the top off the other, police said.

Opinion And Comment

Federal strip mining law

To no one's surprise, President Carl E. Bagge of the National Coal Association has reiterated the industry view that federal law to regulate strip mining is not really needed. He and his colleagues would much prefer to have the matter left to the states.

The states' generally poor record thus far in this respect underlines a well documented fact. Industries which operate in numerous states almost always prefer state to federal regulation because this makes it easier to get the sort of legislation they want. If they lose in one state and get a tough law, they may have better luck in another.

Bagge did make a point of some merit in his comments at the NCA's Symposium on Mineland Reclamation. He urged that regulations for putting land back into shape after the overburden has been stripped to get at the coal should be consistent with a given area's climate and topography.

In this connection he noted that what may be suitable in an Eastern state might not be appropriate for a thinly settled, arid region in the West.

However, Bagge's use of this as an argument against federal legislation is not warranted. Such law can be written so as to give all due consideration to regional differences.

Strip mine operators are presently ripping up land at the rate of several thousand acres daily. There is urgent need for tough federal law to assure protection of the public interest in having mined-over lands restored to something approximating their natural state.

A WORD EDGEWISE . . . by John P. Roche

Limey can't dig JFK

An episode lives in memory: John F.Kennedy, battling for the Democratic nomination, is at this point in time wandering around the wintry wastes of Wisconsin. The press is everywhere, hustling for exclusives, trying to find Catholics who support Hubert Humphrey, attempting to pry from Kennedy a hard estimate of his anticipated vote, and in general providing a sense of movement to what was, in fact, a very inert campaign. Always in the background was a ghostly figure of Teddy White, preparing the first volume of his "The Making of the President" series, and invariably, clustered around the invariably generous White, were the British correspondents, busily writing their "first-hand" copy!

It is possible that a Fenian chromosome has led to some unmerited bias, but later in Washington I got the distinct impression that the reigning British journalists looked on their assignment as comparable, say, to covering Zululand. I recall an interview with one pontiff in early 1968, if interview is the right word. He came by the office and, in a nearly hysterical state, told me the United States was on the verge of collapse that we were simply "coming apart at the seams." When I suggested that in the view of British writers the United States has been "coming apart at the seams" for almost 200 years — with only one actual split, the Civil War — he looked at me as if I had told him the world was flat.

OUR PARTING CIVILITIES consisted of his informing me that I just didn't understand American politics and was incapable of spotting a "revolutionary situation" when I saw one. To which I replied that he was used to a nice police society where the masses knew "their place" and, in Mr. Dooley's famous phrase, that the American people were not engaged in revolution but "merely beating the rug." He may still be wandering around in search of that "revolution."

This is a long windup for some observations about a curiously rancid book about the Kennedy Administration by the British journliast Henry Fairlie: "The Kennedy Promise: The Politics of Expectation" (Doubleday). As he notes, Fairlie arrived in Washington in 1965, well after Kennedy's death, so all his information and commentary is second-hand. His central thesis is that Kennedy was a faker, addicted to high-blown rhetoric, who got the United States into all kinds of trouble by arousing unfulfillable expectations. He cites with obvious approbation Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's remark that if the British "people want a sense of purpose, they should get it from their archbishops." In contrast, he argues, Kennedy attempted to usurp a spiritual role for government, casting the Presidency as a virtual Papacy.

Fairlie is a conservative and his ideological position is, if one accepts Burkian premises, perfectly legitimate. A number of serious American commentators such as Irving Kristol, Pat Moynhihan, and James Q. Wilson have criticized the over-politicization (an awful word, but precise) of the Kennedy-Johnson years, the notion that the government could take care of any problem. Indeed, there is a good deal of merit in the argument — until one realizes, for example, that without government action the blacks would not even have crossed the threshold on the road to equality.

But that is a separable argument. The problem with Fairlie's book is not its philosophy; it is his incredible confusion of the Kennedy myth with the Kennedy reality. The notion that the American people looked on John Kennedy alive as a charismatic figure with the attributes of a Byzantine emperor (one of Fairlie's analogies) is simply preposterous. Moreover, Americans are used to high-flown political rhetoric: the theory that it intoxicates them is comparable to assuming that listening to Sunday sermons keeps Christians on the Virtuous Path. (In a different sector, one might note the amazing increase in domestic water usage during TV commercials).

Perhaps the oddest aspect of this fundamentally conservative book is its reliance on left-wing sources. Kennedy was in fact under constant attack by liberals for not doing enough, for not providing effective civil rights leadership, but this Fairlie ignores in favor of I. F. Stone's constant assaults on the President for playing "world policeman." Between them they produce a Byzantine emperor, but not John Kennedy.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, March 16, the 75th day of 1972. There are 290 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1521, the Portuguese navigator, Ferdinand Magellan, reached the Philippines.

On this date —

In 1676, Indians destroyed the Rhode Island settlements of Warwick and Providence.

In 1751, the fourth American president, James Madison, was born in Port Conway, Va.

In 1802, Congress authorized the establishment of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y.

In 1830, it was a slow day on Wall Street with only 31 shares of stock traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

In 1945, Japanese ressistance on Iwo Jima came to an end after one of the bloodiest battles of the Pacific war.

In 1950, Congress voted to remove federal taxes on oleo-margarine despite protests by dairy farmers.

Ten years ago: In a ceremony at the Vatican, the late nun, Mother Seton, became the first American native to be beatified by the Roman Catholic Church.

Five years ago: Sen. Robert F. Kennedy said he would seek the Democratic presidential nomination to try to change what he called disastrous and divisive American policies in Vietnam and at home.

One year ago: President Nixon made a nationwide broadcast calling for a moratorium on busing to achieve school integration.

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

Some philosophers fear we are witnessing a reversal of sex roles in our society. Little girls are behaving like tomboys and their mothers like tommen as women in general attempt to act more like men. Men, too, are beginning to return the compliment by acting more like women.

The interchange has gone so far that in some marriages it is the husband who is the better cook and the wife who knows more about baseball. One of the problems the whole question raises is what will our next generation of young males be like? Will they take the trend even further, and become the first generation of tomgirls in our national history?

Somehow the idea of being safeguarded by an army whose men do crocheting while on sentry duty doesn't appeal to me.

The human conscience works in odd ways. I have had a lifelong aversion to eating lamb ever since at the age of five I drew a picture of a lamb which the kindergarten teacher praised as the best ever drawn by a student in her classes.

That flattery made it impossible for me ever again to eat lamb knowingly and enjoy it. It offended my conscience to do so. I suspect, however, that had I drawn the worst picture of a lamb made by any member of the class, today I could relish lamb by the heaping plateful.

Red-haired women are less likely to get fat than blondes or brunettes. Why? Why, for the same reason that red-haired girls are more interesting to men than are blondes or brunettes. They have a quicker metabolism.

(Editor's note: Boyle has been crazy about red-haired girls ever since he was jilted by the one who drew the second-best picture of a lamb in his kindergarten class.)

The saddest criticism I know of life in America is this: More people you meet can reminisce with gladness about details of their childhood than can recall with fondness what has happened to them since they grew up.

JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing to amend sections 4, 6, 7, 9, 11, 14, and 16 of Article II, to enact new sections 8 and 15 of Article II, and to repeal sections 8, 15, 17, 18, 19, and 25 of Article II of the Constitution of the State of Ohio, relative to the administration, organization, and procedures of the General Assembly.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at a special election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in May, 1973, a proposal to amend sections 4, 6, 7, 9, 11, 14, and 16 of Article II, to enact new sections 8 and 15 of Article II, and to repeal sections 8, 15, 17, 18, 19, and 25 of Article II of the Constitution of Ohio to read as follows:

ARTICLE II

Section 4. No member of the general assembly shall, during the term for which he was elected, unless during such term he resigns therefrom, hold any public office under the United States, or this state, or a political subdivision thereof; but this provision does not extend to officers of a political party, notaries public, or officers of the militia or of the United States armed forces.

No member of the general assembly shall, during the term for which he was elected, or for one year thereafter, be appointed to any public office under this state, which office was created or the compensation of which was increased, during the term for which he was elected.

Section 6. Each House shall be judge of the election, returns, and qualifications of its own members. A majority of all the members elected to each House shall be a quorum to do business; but, a less number may adjourn from day to day, and compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner, and under such penalties, as shall be prescribed by law.

Each House may punish its members for disorderly conduct and, with the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected thereto, expel a member, but not the second time for the same cause.

Each House has all powers necessary to provide for its safety and the undisturbed transaction of its business, and to obtain, through committees or otherwise, information affecting legislative action under consideration or in contemplation, or with reference to any alleged breach of its privileges or misconduct of its members, and to that end to enforce the attandance and testimony of witnesses, and the production of books and papers.

Section 7. The mode of organizing each House of the general assembly shall be prescribed by law.

Each House, except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, shall choose its own officers. The presiding officer in the Senate shall be designated as president of the Senate and in the House of Representatives as speaker of the House of Representatives.

Each House shall determine its own rules of proceeding.

Section 8. Each general assembly shall convene in first regular session on the first Monday of January in the odd-numbered year, or on the succeeding day of the first Monday of January is a legal holiday, and in second regular session on the same date of the following year. Either the governor, or the presiding officers of the general assembly chosen by the members thereof, acting jointly, may convene the general assembly in special session by a proclamation which may limit the purpose of the session. If the presiding officer of the Senate is not chosen by the members thereof, the president pro tempore of the Senate may act with the speaker of the House of Representatives in the calling of a special session.

Section 9. Each House shall keep a correct journal of its proceedings, which shall be published. At the desire of any two members, the yeas and nays shall be entered upon the journal; and, on the passage of every bill, in either House, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and entered upon the journal.

Section 11. A vacancy in the Senate or in the House of Representatives for any cause, including the failure of a member-elect to qualify for office, shall be filled by election by the members of the Senate or the members of the House of Representatives, as the case may be, who are affiliated with the same political party as the person last elected by the electors to the seat which has become vacant. A vacancy occurring before or during the first twenty months of a Senatorial term shall be filled temporarily by election as provided in this section, for only that portion of the term which will expire on the thirty-first day of December following the next general election occurring in an even-numbered year after the vacancy occurs, at which election the seat shall be filled by the electors as provided by law for the remaining, unexpired portion of the term, the member-elect so chosen to take office on the first day in January next following such election. No person shall be elected to fill a vacancy in the Senate or House of Representatives, as the case may be, unless he meets the qualifications set forth in this Constitution and the laws of this state for the seat in which the vacancy occurs. An election to fill a vacancy shall be accomplished, notwithstanding the provisions of section 27, Article II of this Constitution, by the adoption of a resolution, while the Senate or the House of Representatives, as the case may be, is in session, with the taking of the yeas and nays of the members of the Senate or the House of Representatives, as the case may be, affiliated with the same political party as the person last elected to the seat in which the vacancy occurs. The adoption of such resolution shall require the affirmative vote of a majority of the members elected to the Senate or the House of Representatives, as the case may be, entitled to vote thereon. Such vote shall be spread upon the journal of the Senate or the House of Representatives, as the case may be, and certified to the Secretary of State by the clerk thereof. The Secretary of State shall, upon receipt of such certification, issue a certificate of election to the person so elected and upon presentation of such certificate to the Senate or the House of Representatives, as the case may be, the person so elected shall take the oath of office and become a member of the Senate or the House of Representatives, as the case may be, for the term for which he was so elected.

Section 14. Neither House shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than five days, Sundays excluded; nor to any other place than that, in which the two Houses are in session.

Section 15. (A) The general assembly shall enact no law except by bill, and no bill shall be passed without the concurrence of a majority of the members elected to each house. Bills may originate in either house, but may be altered, amended, or rejected in the other.

(B) The style of the laws of this state shall be, "Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio."

(C) Every bill shall be considered by each house on three different days, unless two-thirds of the members elected to the house in which it is pending suspend this requirement, and every individual consideration of a bill or action suspending the requirement shall be recorded in the journal of the respective house. No bill may be passed until the bill has been reproduced and distributed to members of the house in which it is pending and every amendment been made available upon a member's request.

(D) No bill shall contain more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in its title. No law shall be revived or amended unless the new act contains the entire act revived, or the section or sections amended, and the section or sections amended shall be repealed.

(E) Every bill which has passed both houses of the general assembly shall be signed by the presiding officer of each house to certify that the procedural requirements for passage have been met and shall be presented forthwith to the governor for his approval.

(F) Every joint resolution which has been adopted in both houses of the general assembly shall be signed by the presiding officer of each house to certify that the procedural requirements for adoption have been met and shall forthwith be filed with the secretary of state.

Section 16. If the governor approves an act, he shall sign it, it becomes law and he shall file it with the secretary of state.

If he does not approve it, he shall return it with his objections in writing, to the house in which it originated, which shall enter the objections at large upon its journal, and may then reconsider the vote on its passage. If three-fifths of the members elected to the house of origin vote to repass the bill, it shall be sent, with the objections of the governor, to the other house, which may also reconsider the vote on its passage. If three-fifths of the members elected to the second house vote to repass it, it becomes law notwithstanding the objections of the governor, and the presiding officer of the second house shall file it with the secretary of state. In no case shall a bill be repassed by a smaller vote than is required by the constitution on its original passage. In all cases of reconsideration the vote of each house shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against the bill shall be entered upon the journal.

If a bill is not returned by the governor within ten days, Sundays excepted, after being presented to him, it becomes law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the general assembly by adjournment prevents its return; in which case, it becomes law unless, within ten days after such adjournment, it is filed by him, with his objections in writing, in the office of the secretary of state. The governor shall file with the secretary of state every bill not returned by him to the house of origin that becomes law without his signature.

The governor may disapprove any item or items in any bill making an appropriation of money and the item or items, so disapproved, shall be void, unless repassed in the manner prescribed by this section for the repassage of a bill.

EFFECTIVE DATE AND REPEAL

If adopted by a majority of the electors voting on this amendment, the amendment and schedule thereto shall take immediate effect, and existing sections 4, 6, 7, 9, 11, 14, and 16 of Article II, and sections 8, 15, 17, 18, 19, and 25 of Article II shall be repealed from such effective date.

Ohio perspective

All not harmony in state house

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — All is not harmony among Democrats who control the Ohio House in the 110th General Assembly.

The case of Rep. George D. Tablack, D-52 Campbell, is an example.

Tablack reportedly was irked because Gov. John J. Gilligan refused to reappoint his father, a former representative, to the Liquor Control Commission.

Although he worked out his differences with the governor on that matter, he now confides to friends that he feels his Ways and Means Committee is being bypassed for hearing major bills.

The bills that would usually go there, he contended, are being re-routed to other committees.

Tablack, partly as a result, has begun hearings on a constitutional amendment proposal that would require voter approval of an increase of more than one-half of one per cent in either the sales or income tax during any 5-year period.

It is a proposal Gilligan opposes. If it could pass both the House and Senate, it would go on the November ballot. Tablack believes it would be a cinch to get voter approval.

Other animosity has been building between two other committee chairmen, Rep. Tom Fries, D-35 Dayton, Local Government and Urban Affairs, and Rep. Harry J. Lehman, D-and Rep. Harry J. Lehman, D-16 Shaker Heights who chairs a section of the House Judiciary Committee.

Both are members of the insurance, Utilities and Financial Institutions Committee, where a Fries bill on clarifying the licensing law regarding non-resident insurance firms was heard last week. Lehman tried to amend it.

"If we accept this amendment, will it satisfy your clients?" Fries asked. Lehman, a lawyer, was obviously irked. "Mr. Fries," he replied, "I have clients on both sides of this issue."

After the hearing, Lehman asked Fries into a nearby office. When Fries came out a lobbyist friend asked, "Did you get your dressing down?"

"I told him," said Fries, "that if he didn't quit bugging me I would hit him in the mouth."

Incinerator firm told to close tepee operation

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— The Ohio Environmental Protection Agency has told Clarke Incinerators Inc., to build a new anti-pollution device in 18 months or be forced out of business.

Thomas Clarke, owner, had asked a variance to pollute temporarily until two other incinerators could be modernized at a cost of $400,000.

The EPA, in granting the variance, also ordered Clarke to close down his controversial "teepee" incinerator at Interstates 75 and 275 by April 18 and have the new plant under construction by Sept. 15.

He was also ordered to proceed with modernizing the other incinerators.

Children entertained at puppet show at WJHS

Approximately 600 children from the kindergarten, first and second grades of the Washington C.H. city schools and students from the Fayette Progressive School were the guests of the Mother's Circle for a puppet show Wednesday morning in the Washington Junior High School auditorium. The program presented by the Columbus Junior Theater of the Arts was entitled "I Have a Thing About Puppets," The show consisted of four short stories using four different types of puppetry: "Swimmy" from the book by Leo Leon using shadow puppets; "Peter Rabbit" using rod puppets; a "Punch and Judy" show with hand puppets and "Chicken Little" for which children from the audience were selected to work marionettes.

The program was presented again Wednesday afternoon for 200 students at Madison Mills School. On Tuesday, a pre-play program was given in the second grades at Eastside and Belle Aire schools, and the second and third grades of Madison Mills. The children made their own puppets and acted out favorite stories.

The Columbus Junior Theater of the Arts Trouping Theater productions have been sponsored in the schools this year by the Mother's Circle in cooperation with the Washington C.H. City Schools and Miami Trace School district.

Mrs. Birch Rice is president of Mothers Circle, Mrs. Charles H. Tye, Sr., was general chairman for the event, assisted by Mrs. Ralph Marcy, Mrs. June Slaugher, Hugh Rea and Donald Riber, who serves on the board of directors of Columbus Junior Theater of the Arts.

'Consumerism' AAUW topic

The American Association of University Women heard Mrs. Beulah Hill, of Wilmington, Area Extension Service home economist, discuss "consumerism" in the home of Mrs. Robert Snider.

Mrs. Hill began by pointing out that not only do producers of goods have an obligation to improve the quality of products, but the consumer also has an obligation to handle these products with care. She said, for example, consumers who return articles of clothing to department stores after wearing them once, and those who mishandle fruit and vegetables in grocery stores.

Many laws have recently been passed that help the consumer in buying, she said. These include laws pertaining to meat, autos, and the Truth in Lending Act, which helps people see what interest and payments will be before taking out a loan.

Mrs. Hill said people today are more aware of poverty and are more concerned about others. One-sixth of the United States' population is living at the poverty level, she said, and noted this is a smaller number than in the early 1900s, but modern society is more aware of their needs.

Next month, AAUW will tour Laurel Oaks Vocational School. The tour, planned for April 9, is under the direction of Mrs. Donald Foster.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Snider to Mrs. Robert Lee, Mrs. Donald Pierce, Mrs. Willard Rutledge, Miss Bernice O'Briant, Mrs. Walter Parsley, Mrs. Donald Ginn, Mrs. Gary McCollim, Miss Gayle Sullivan, Mrs. George Walker, Mrs. George O'Briant, Mrs. Nancy Cutler, Mrs. John Frederick, Mrs. Glenn Merritt, Mrs. Donald Moore, Mrs. Hill and Mrs. K.F. Bartlett, a guest.

Mrs. Robert owens, president, presented Mrs. Max Morrow, who gave a resume of Nat King Cole book, an intimate biography written by his wife, Maria Cole. Mrs. Morrow told of the tragedy and inspiration of his life and she noted that Nat King Cole was a black man in a white world, and was the first black man to have a national radio and TV show. He gave greatness to the world in his songs, she said. At Nat King Cole's passing, Jack Benny said, "Time, as always, will work its healing ways, and I know that some day the dew drops will glisten on the Rambling Rose; the ballerina will dance again, and Mona Lisa will smile."

The book about Pearl Bailey was the second of the evening reviewed. It was by Mrs. Kenneth Spahr. Her audience was delighted with this American's story, of her struggles, conflicts and disappointments. In her witty ways she tells of an unusually beautiful love and marriage, Mrs. Spahr said. She has sung twice at Presidential Inaugurations and the public is still enjoying her songs, she added.

Hostesses seated the club during the social hour at beautifully appointed tables cleverly decorated with a St. Patrick Day motif.

POW will get hero's welcome

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Former prisoner-of-war, Navy Lt. Cmdr. Charles Stackhouse will receive a "hero's welcome" when he returns to his old hometown of Norwood next Friday.

"I'm really going to wave the flag," said Norwood High School Principal Albert Geselbracht, who remembers Stackhouse as a student in his school.

The celebration will include a high school assembly to which old athletes, friends, teachers and city officials have been invited. A parade will follow and there will be a testimonial luncheon at a local motel.

"You know patriotism almost became a dirty word during the Vietnam War," Geselbracht said, "the kids are blase about it.

"I'm counting on this to let the youngsters know what a young man is, who could live in barbaric conditions, who had the courage and determination to overcome it.

"Very frankly, I'm going to wave the flag."

Geselbracht arranged the entire celebration.

"The kids have got to know they have a helluva fine country, but the big thing is to see a real live hero, someone who maybe sat in the same seat they occupy now, who developed into the person he is.

"Maybe some of it will rub off."

Geselbracht was principal when Stackhouse and his brother Bill, now an Air Force major, were presented appointments to military academies.

They were not twins, but were in the same class. Both lettered in football, basketball and baseball, were among the top of their classes and Charles was class president.

"You know," Geselbracht said, "his father died when they were just children. But they worked hard to raise themselves up. Their mother who now lives in Lemoore, Calif., and Mrs. Nellie Hill, the next door neighbor who helped raise the boys, were very strong-minded people.

"There are a lot of stories about people getting into trouble and having problems because they were poor, and their families were broken up.

"Well, this is one time you see someone make something of himself to be proud of.

"He's an all-American kind of a guy, but he'll be the first one to deny that."

Stackhouse was shot down over Hanoi April 25, 1967.

CCI inmate loses bid for damages

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A prison inmate has 10 days to file another motion after a U.S. District Court threw out his suit against Ohio emanating from a sit-down strike last December at the Chillicothe Correctional Institute.

U.S. District Court Judge David S. Porter called Gordon Firman's request for $520,000 damages vague. He said it did not qualify as a class action for 52 inmates and refused to appoint an attorney for him.

Firman's action, filed in January, said the inmate's civil rights were violated when they were transferred Dec. 22 by bus to the new Southern Ohio Correctional Facility at Lucasville.

Porter's order Thursday said the complaint "shows on the face of it that the plaintiff and others were placed on buses only after engaging in a sitdown strike—and—thus there may have been an emergency which justified the transfer without the niceties of due process."

Porter said Firman did not specify which rights he thought were violated. He said further that the suit could not be considered a class action because each of the 52 cases will be different.

Young men still dislike military

WASHINGTON (AP) — Young America's opinion of military service inched upward last year, but nearly 60 per cent of civilian young men still held a negative attitude, says a survey for the Pentagon's manpower office.

The reasons given for not enlisting shifted as the draft approached zero in 1972 and the United States disengaged from the Vietnam war.

In two previous surveys in 1971, the report said, "the principal reason cited for not enlisting was antagonism toward war or the military establishment."

By last summer there was less stress on these factors and "increased emphasis accorded consideration of personal freedom and life style," the survey found. The check was made last June but results have just become available.

"Also, youth were less likely to report fear of death or injury ... as deterrents to enlistment," the report said.

Henderson starts series of assemblies at MTHS

By KATHY COTTRILL

A series of assemblies on various subjects has begun at Miami Trace. The first was given by Ken Henderson, a native Ohioan who now lives in Lexington, Ky. He was introduced by Mr. Charles Richmond, pastor of the South Side Church of Christ.

For the "educational" portion of the program, Mr. Henderson recited several short humorous poems. Accompanying himself on the guitar, the young man sang a take-off entitled "By the Time I Get to Venus" and a religious song about his Friend Jesus.

Mr. Henderson related that when he was in school, he decided to imitate the most popular boy in the school. So turning from the Christian principles his parents has instilled in him, he tried cheating, shoplifting, and smoking. However, he did not join his friends at a drinking party, after which his idol killed himself. Then he realized that if he had been a Christian in front of his friend, the boy would have lived. He stressed the importance of living up to the example of Jesus' life.

Something to think about

BY: NED KINZER

Tact is a factor in our personality, which if developed correctly, can serve to great advantage throughout life. It is wise to use diplomacy in everything we say and do, which means using our judgment in how to say or do a thing at the proper time and place. Tactfulness is simply weighing the matter at hand, and replying or doing what seems best, to suit each circumstance, considering all concerned.

MT students see actor recreate George B. Shaw

The second in a series of assemblies was held recently at MTHS. It featured Mr. Bromwell Fletcher, an actor for 43 years. His last Broadway role was playing opposite Julie Andrews in "My Fair Lady." Mr. Fletcher came to Fayette County with the National Humanities Series.

Born in an English mining town to a poor family, Mr. Fletcher moved to London where he worked in an office. He became interested in art and it was at an art show that he first saw George Bernard Shaw. At another meeting with the famous Shaw, the playwright persuaded Fletcher to try acting. After auditioning for several people, the young Bromwell landed small acting jobs at Stratford-on-Avon.

Famous for his recreation of George Bernard Shaw, Mr. Fletcher imitated the famous man for the student body. A highlight of the program was a scene from "My Fair Lady" which Mr. Fletcher performed with the help of Dawn Schlichter.

MT girls win state FHA degrees

The Miami Trace High School chapter of Future Homemakers of America announces the awarding of state degrees to Brenda Finley, Pam Woods, Miracle Florea, and Patsy Gibson. To be awarded this degree is the highest achievement a girl or boy may receive in the Future Homemakers of America and Hero youth organization.

These girls have shown growth in school activities, personal achievements, home membership, and community service. Previous to this award, they had received their Junior Homemaker and Chapter degrees.

On April 13 in Veterans Memorial in Columbus at the FHA state meeting these four girls, joining some 300 others from Ohio, will be greeted by the state advisor, Mrs. Adele Riegel, and receive the state degree certificate. Later that evening a reception will be held in their honor and at the evening meeting they will be recognized by some 1,500 FHA members attending state meeting.

Nationally Future Homemakers of America and Hero, jointly sponsored by the American Home Economics Association and the U.S. Office of Education, has a membership of half a million junior and senior high school students enrolled in home economics and related occupations courses.

Yearbook meet held at MTHS

By SUSAN TOLLE

The student body met recently in the auditorium for an assembly concerning the annual yearbook.

During this time a film was shown to explain what a yearbook could mean in the future. This film was narrated by Mrs. Patricia Gall, the yearbook advisor.

Following the film, yearbook staff members passed out order forms which were filled out and turned in before the end of the assembly. Payments for the 1973 yearbook was later collected in home rooms.

Immediately following the yearbook assembly, the students were dismissed to go to class meetings. The seniors discussed what gift to leave the school, with a victory bell as one suggestion.

The juniors announced committees for the prom and class party, and the sophomores and freshmen selected committees for their class parties at the end of the year.

Creek safety to be costly

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Ralph J. Perk has asked the properties and utilities departments to determine what can be done to make Doan Brook Creek safe and keep it from becoming a death trap for children.

At least three — and probably four — children have drowned in the creek in the last eleven months, prompting Perk to investigate the possibility of culverting the steep-walled drainage ditch that runs through Wade, Rockefeller and Gordon parks.

That could be costly, however, since a 1956 study estimated the cost at $10 million.

Bartunek eyes senate

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Joseph W. Bartunek, former chairman of the Cuyahoga County Democratic party, is reportedly seriously interested in running for the U.S. Senate next year.

Bartunek's interest in the spot brings the primary field to four. The others expected to run are Cleveland lawyer Howard M. Metzenbaum, former astronaut John H. Glenn and former U.S. Sen. Stephen M. Young.

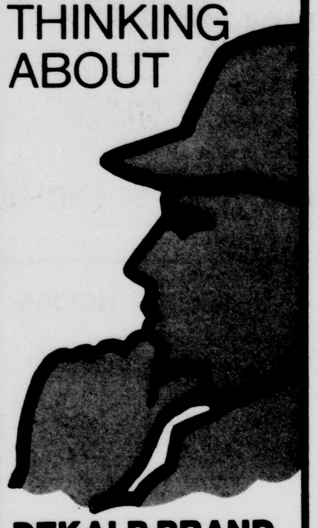

Bartunek, 49, a conservative Catholic, would represent the biggest threat to Metzenbaum, a Jewish liberal and the party's unsuccessful candidate in 1970.

Bartunek declined to comments on his candidacy, but reports indicate he is considering resigning as Cleveland State University board chairman as early as this May to devote more time to his candidacy.

Bartunek was a state senator from 1949 to 1964, a probate judge for the next six years and county party chairman from 1970 to 1972.

A report by zoologist Dr. Roger Payne says that the disposition of a right whale is at variance with the centuries-old reputation for smashing boats and men. Dr. Payne said, "That violent action only followed harpooning and lacing, with the whale writhing in agony."

Ohio Penitentiary closes doors to any new inmates

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Penitentiary, a 139-year-old fortress that has housed nearly 140,000 prisoners in its turbulent history, will close its doors to new inmates Friday.

Warden Harold J. Cardwell says the prison "stabilized" at about 680 inmates earlier this month. Starting Monday, receiving, screening and placing new prisoners will be handled at the Chillicothe Correctional Institute and the new maximum security prison at Lucasville. Remaining are inmates being screened, those heading for parole and an inmate custodial force.

It's another step in state plans to eventually close the somber looking cluster of stone building near Capital City's downtown area. Nothing definite has been decided, however, on what to do with the prison complex and the 30 acres on which the facility is located.

In the 1950s, Ohio Penitentiary had a population 5,200, nearly 5,000 of them behind bars.

"I don't know how they ever did it," Cardwell said.

The prison's history has been violent.

In 1849, cholera struck, killing 116 of 423 inmates.

In a 1930 Easter tragedy, 322 perished in a fire believed to have started by a candle used in an escape try.

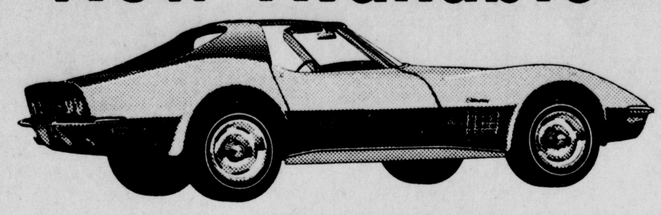

In 1968, rioters started several fires. A month later, riots broke out again, and it took the Ohio National Guard, State Highway Patrol, Columbus police and prison guards to quell the outbreak. Five inmates died when Guardsmen blasted a 10-foot hole in a prison wall and troops swarmed in.

There have been 343 executions at the penitentiary—the first 28 hanged, the rest died in the electric chair installed in 1897. Three of them were women.

The last execution was 10 years ago March 14—when Donald L. Reinboldt of Columbus paid with his life for the robbery-slaying of a Columbus grocer.

Streams in the United States carry an average of 1.2 billion gallons of water each day to the oceans.

Buzzards are back at Hinkley

HINCKLEY, Ohio (AP)— Pancake lovers can get ready for Buzzard Sunday: the birds are back.

Sgt. Ambrose Berger of the Cleveland Metropolitan Park System's Hinckley Reserve says he sighted the buzzards back on their reservation roosts at 8:18 a.m. Thursday.

That was March 15, the day on which the buzzards always show up, he says.

And that sets off plans for Buzzard Sunday, the day of pancakes, what Berger calls "something like a carnival"— and tourists, maybe 30,000 of them, he says.

Berger says the buzzards apparently were attracted to their dead tree roosts 150 years ago, when hunters left a lot of skinned carcasses to freeze during the winter and rot when they thawed in the spring.

Buzzards return to their favorite perches "year after year," he says.

Are they ever early? "Well, we're not allowed to say," Berger answered with a laugh, then added: "There have been some sightings before, but we believe people are seeing either hawks or crows in the sky and not buzzards."

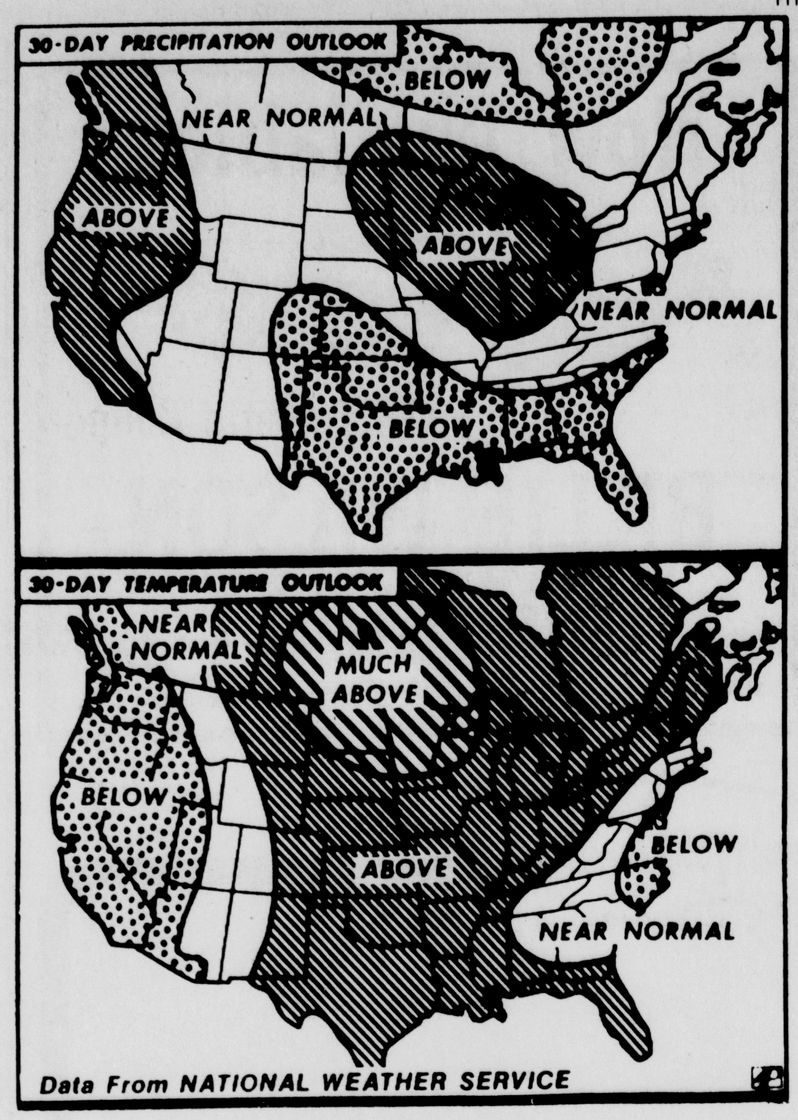

The Sunday ceremony and the March 15 tradition, he said, was started by the park district's Lt. Walt Nawalaniec in 1957 with the help of a Cleveland reporter.

AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Comedienne Lily Tomlin, of "Laugh-In," college circuit and coffeehouse fame, is appearing in her own television special tonight on CBS. It's her first such show.

It's a very moving show. It may move you right into the arms of Morpheus if you don't have a trombone student standing by with orders to play "Mighty Like a Rose" whenever your head droops.

Miss T. is an inherently funny woman, as those who have seen her in person or on "Laugh-In" can testify. Anyone who can create such diverse souls as Ernestine of the switchboard or the Tasteful Lady of suburbia can't be all bad.

But her first major solo effort on television is conducted at such a drawn-out pace you may get the feeling the show's seven writers dictated the material during their afternoon nap.

A case in point comes in a skit introducing a new face in Miss Tomlin's arsenal of characters —Miss Bobbi Geneen, the lady organist in a saloon called Rocky's Starlite Lounge.

Bobbi is the prototype of any cocktail lounge organist you've ever seen, right down to the patter and electronic drumming machine that always seems to be thumping out the beat to "Volare."

It's a funny premise, but it just lays about like stale peanuts.

There is a fairly funny skit at the start of the show involving what happens when a Cosmopolitan reader (a "sexually liberated, but an old-fashioned girl") meets a Playboy boy whose hobbies are "tiger hunting and ecology."

But this, too, passes out as the two ignore their respective advisors from both magazines and decamp in search of true love, a Walt Disney movie and a pizza.

The only segment that really seems to score is one in which Miss Tomlin plays one of those average American housewives who have nothing to do but tout laundry detergents on television.

She declares that her detergent really does the job and starts filling the laundry machine with a load that includes son Billy's dirty chinos and her husband's lipstick-stained shirt.

She sort of loses her train of thought after pondering those lipstick stains and finally explodes, "Well, you want to know something? Billy isn't yours!"

$1,000 bond forfeited by elevator operator

L. J. Dill, owner and former operator of the Dill Grain Co. elevator in Milledgeville, forfeited a $1,000 bond in Municipal Court Thursday afternoon after failing to appear on a charge of failure to remove debris left at the elevator site after it burned in November, 1970.

Dill, who also operates a grain elevator in Columbus, posted the bond in November, 1972, after failing to obey an earlier court order to clean up the wreckage.

Millegeville Mayor Johnny D. Blair filed the complaint under a Milledgeville village ordinance in July, 1972, and the case appeared in court in August. Dill was found guilty in the August court appearance and was ordered to clear the site by Nov. 9.

The debris had still not been cleared away by the November date and Judge Reed M. Winegardner fined Dill $50 per day for each day of the violation. He suspended the fine, however, and ordered Dill to post $1,000 bond and have the site cleaned up in 30 days.

Dill was granted another 30-day extension in December after a start had been made to remove the wreckage from the site on Main Street in the Jasper Township village.

The second 30-day extension expired in January and the case was continued to Thursday when Dill failed to appear and forfeited the bond.

Judge Winegardner also imposed a fine of $50 a day to take effect March 26 if the former elevator site is not cleared within the next 10 days.

Fayette County Boys Choir plans fund raising events

Members of the Fayette County Boys Choir will be calling at homes here Saturday afternoon with mini tool kits, suitable to keep in the car or home, occasional cards and note cards for sale to raise money for the choir's annual educational trip to historical Charlotte, Va., May 4, 5 and 6. Mrs. William Heinz is chairman of the project.

The trip will be made by charter bus. Mrs. Joe Overly is the adult secretary of the choir, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Waggoner, the treasurers, and Garrell Leasure the trip manager. They will be the chaperones.

The choir also has plans for a food sale next week and will present a concert at the Business and Professional Women's Club meeting March 27 in the Country Club.

Defective thermostat blamed for fire

A faulty thermostat on a deep fryer was blamed for a minor blaze at a Lakeview Avenue home Thursday afternoon, city firemen reported.

Firemen said the deep fryer in the David Petitt home, 1115 Lakeview Ave., apparently overheated and caught fire, causing approximately $150 damage to the fryer and kitchen.

Petitt, firemen said, managed to smother the blaze by throwing a wet towel over the fryer.

Fostoria nurse dies in Indiana accident

PERU, Ind. (AP)—A Fostoria, Ohio, nurse stationed at Grissom Air Force Base near here was killed Thursday night in a one-car accident on U.S. 31 about 7 miles south of Peru.

The victim was Linda L. Davidson, 30. State police estimated the vehicle was traveling at more than 80 miles an hour when it went off the road.

Man receives prison term for shooting

David E. Harter, 36, was sentenced to a term of one to 20 years in state prison Thursday in Common Pleas Court for shooting with intent to kill or wound. Judge Evelyn W. Coffman pronounced sentence after Harter entered a plea of guilty.

The charge stemmed from a March 29, 1972, shooting in a North Fayette Street apartment. Harter's wife, Annabelle, sustained a gunshot wound to her right side in the incident. The shot was fired from a .32 caliber pistol.

Harter was indicted by the grand jury in January.

Organized labor boycotts Demo fund-raiser

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—An AFL-CIO official says the organization will boycott a $100-a-plate Democratic party fund-raising dinner next month

James Iafelice, chairman of the AFL-CIO's Committee On Political Education, said Thursday the organization is boycotting all of the party's fund-raising efforts to protest alleged mistreatment from Gov. John Gilligan and Cuyahoga County party members.

For the first time in its history, the 20,000-member labor group refused to purchase $1,000 of tickets for the dinner. Iafelice said the group is now "a bachelor in the political arena."

The 130,000-member Teamsters Union is expected to follow suit.

Miami U president given degree by OSU

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University awarded an honorary doctor of law degree today to Miami University President Dr. Phillip R. Shriver at winter commencement exercises for about 1,750 graduates.

Dr. Shriver, president of Miami University since 1965, said in prepared remarks that he and OSU President Harold L. Enarson "share many things in common, particularly our grave concern over the current and prospectively worsening, depression affecting Ohio's public higher education institutions."

Perk establishes antismut force

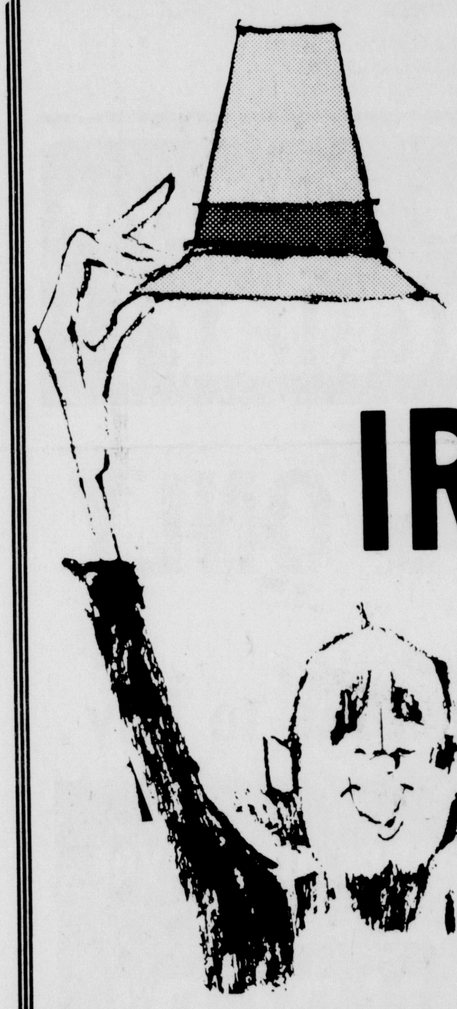

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Smut and prostitution will be on their way out, the transit system will be healthy and the police department will more efficient, if Mayor Ralph J. Perk has his way.

Perk said Thursday he was establishing a six-man police smut force, under his direction, to clean up the city. It will be the first time in city history a police unit operates outside the safety department.

Maurice Pfeifer, WJHS guidance counselor, announced the makeup of the teams, which include: physical science — David Stackhouse, Kevin Pfeifer and Galen Bock; Algebra — Julia Looker, Debbie Bullock and Mike Pope; French — Karen Easterday, Lee Bobo and Kim Kinzer; Spanish — Michelle Davis, Cheryl Bryan and Lisa Lynch, and English — Linda Hollingsworth, Sue Moore and Ann Crocker.

The students were selected on the basis of their performances on preliminary tests.

Inmate being sought after Columbus escape

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Authorities still were searching today for a Southern Ohio Correctional Institution inmate who fled from the Franklin County courthouse as he was about to go on trial for wounding a prison guard.

Bobby Griffith, who was transported from the prison at Lucasville to Columbus to stand trial, escaped Thursday by kicking a hole through a restroom wall.

OU trustee case opens

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A hearing on a state request for a summary judgement in the case of an Ohio University trustee accused of conflict of interest was to begin today in Franklin County Common Pleas Court.

State Attorney General William Brown filed a civil suit against Fred Johnson in August, 1972, seeking to have Johnson return commissions he received for insurance he sold Ohio University while he was a trustee.

The state claims that Johnson received approximately $77,000 in commissions for the sale of life, major medical, and health insurance over a 15-year period.

Johnson has been a trustee of the university since 1947 and is still on the board. The university stopped paying commissions on the policies in 1971 when the alleged conflict was first brought to light by the attorney general's office.

In the fall of 1971 a grand jury investigated the conflict of interest charges against Johnson but was desolved without any indictment being presented.

Toledo students are feared lost in Ottawa River

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Search operations were to resume today for the bodies of two University of Toledo students, Jim Gregory, 20, and Dave Parker, 19, who apparently drowned Thursday when their rafts overturned in the Ottawa River in suburban Ottawa Hills.

The two students, both of Toledo, and two companions were in two rubber rafts shooting a dam on the river when the rafts capsized. Scott Johnston, 23, of Maumee, and Dale Benington, 22, of Toledo managed to swim to the shore.

Divers searched for the bodies of the missing men until dark.

The four had made the same trip down the river and over the dam Wednesday without incident, according to authorities.

The Great Lakes-St. Lawrence shipping season is about eight months long — from mid-April to late December.

Pilot has so many medals he can't keep them pinned

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) -- Air Force Capt. Ronald E. Smith kept a straight face as one of the "less important" decorations, the Distinguished Flying Cross, slipped off his uniform for the third time during ceremonies at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base Thursday.

The 29-year-old Gainesville, Fla., pilot played down the hero role all the way as the Air Force Cross, the nation's second highest medal for combat valor, was pinned on his pocket.

Smith also received two awards of the Silver Star, the second, third, and fourth oak leaf clusters, and the first through seventh such clusters to the Air Medal.

The captain, an A1E Skyraider pilot assigned to Nakon Phanom Air Base in Thailand in 1972, was given the awards for rescue work.

Smith received so many awards that Brig. Gen. Frank Simokaitis couldn't find places to pin them all. On one occasion during the ceremonies, Smith broke from attention to catch one of the medals as it fell off his uniform.

On another occasion Simokaitis caught a falling medal and muttered out loud, "We need an engineer."

During his remarks, Smith said, "I was just lucky to be in the right place at the right time—so many times. I'm not unique."

Capt. Smith earned the Air Force Cross for rescuing an F-4 pilot who had been shot down and who had evaded capture for 23 days. Smith rescued the pilot after searching for him about seven hours over a two-day period.

Similar incidents involving downed air crews in Laos earned Smith the Silver Stars. Aid in the rescue of an observation pilot in Laos, support of a rescue flight trying to reach Quang Tri City and a tactical mission against trucks and supplies lead to the other awards.

Smith is now enrolled in a master of science program in systems analysis at the Institute of Technology School of Engineering here. He holds a BA degree in aerospace engineering from the University of Florida.

Walleye fishing ban remains in effect

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— State Wildlife Division Chief Dan Armbruster says a ban against commercial walleye fishing in Lake Erie remains in effect despite a court challenge of new fishing regulations.

Raymond Fisheries of Toledo filed an appeal in Franklin County Common Pleas Court which temporarily halted enforcement of the new fishing regulations.

The regulations closed six areas in Lake Erie to commercial fishing, and continue for five years the ban on commercial walleye fishing in Lake Erie and its tributaries.

The best-known explanation for the handshake is that the right hand traditionally holds weapons. In the past, an extended empty right hand showed peaceful intent.

Man sentenced as drug pusher

HUNTINGTON, W.Va. (AP) — Cabell County Common Pleas Judge Robert Conaty has sentenced 46-year-old Henry Taylor of Burlington, Ohio, to from 1-15 years in prison following his jury conviction for selling heroin.

Conaty ordered the sentence to be served concurrently with a 30-year term meted Taylor earlier this month by U.S. District Court in Charleston.

Taylor received that sentence after being found guilty of conspiracy to sell heroin.

Centralized schools eyed

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati School Superintendent Donald Waldrip has called for a program of centralized school building to eliminate racial isolation in elementary and junior high schools.

The report, submitted Thursday to the school board, calls for eliminating all-white and all-black neighborhood schools with a minimum of busing.

"If we can't sell this small step to the community," he said, "then I doubt if we'll be able to sell any plan to end racial isolation.

"It will then just be a matter of time until the courts come in and tell us what to do."

The building program, he suggested, should be done with a $25 million bond issue voted last November.

Corn crop increase predicted for Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio farmers intend to plant 3,660,000 acres of corn in 1973, a 10 per cent increase over last year, the Agriculture Department said Thursday.

Indications as of March 1 also were that 3,316,000 acres of soybeans will be planted, an 8 per cent increase over 1972.

Extra-high platform shoes have been criticized by driver education instructors, as well as by podiatrists. They are said to hinder brake and gas pedal maneuverability.

You'll find the whole exciting story in the new Ridge Homes Booklet, "Planning, Choosing, and Building the home that's right for your family." . . . It's 88 colorful pages of pure inspiration . . . In it you'll read an article written by Francis Reers, a typical Ridge customer, who tells how he built his own Ridge home with hardly any out-of-pocket cash at all. And Francis Reers isn't alone. Thousands of Ridge families got their dream homes the exact same way . . . and your family can do it too!

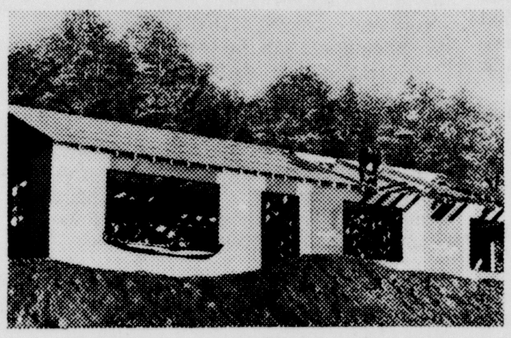

Ridge Homes is the reason.

First come the materials and components for the weatherproof exterior, which is erected on the foundation by skilled professionals. Then, after that is erected, the interior finishing materials arrive. Unlike homes built the old-fashioned way, a Ridge home gives you consistent quality, efficiency and low cost. This is why a manufactured home is the best answer for so many families. In fact, by 1975, about half of all new homes will be factory-produced!

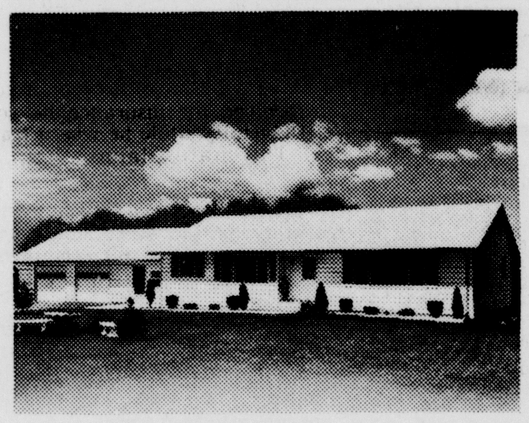

You make a Ridge home exactly what you want it to be.

What's your pleasure? Rancher? Bi-level? You'll find it among Ridge Homes' basic models. Then that dream starts coming true. Your Ridge home will be tailor-made for you thanks to the hundreds of features and options you can choose from. At no extra charge you can change the floor plan . . . choose the exterior design . . . select your kitchen, bathroom fixtures, color scheme . . . everything! The choice is entirely yours!

Save thousands by doing some of the work yourself.

Can you swing a hammer? Or handle a saw? Then you can save yourself up to $4,000 on your new Ridge home by doing some of the interior finishing work yourself. We'll take care of the tough jobs for you. Like the foundation and weatherproof exterior. Then you can finish up as much of the interior as you want. Or as little. And your Ridge dealer will be right there if you need any help or professional advice. Thousands of families helped build their own Ridge homes this way, and ended up with more home than they ever thought they could afford.

Yes, Ridge even has mortgage money.

When you build with Ridge you don't have to worry about getting a mortgage. We have our own financial resources and financing plans to help people build their new homes. So stop saving for that new home. And start planning to build it . . . today!

Now you should see our Magazine. There's a free copy waiting at your Ridge dealer's.

You'll see all 35 Ridge home models, decorator ideas, do-it-yourself tips, choices and options galore . . . and, of course, the feature article written by a man who built his Ridge home with less cash than a month's rent! And his story's not at all unusual. So get your free magazine at your Ridge dealer's. Or mail the coupon. It's your first big step toward making your dream home come true.

Defending prep cage champs in regionals

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Ohio's 1972 state tournament champions, reaching the Sweet Sixteen for the second straight year, swing into action tonight in high school regional tournament warfare.

Cleveland East Tech in Class AAA, Columbus Ready in Class AA and Ghadenhutten Indian Valley South in Class A are considered prime challengers for second straight Ohio title trophies.

East Tech's twice-beaten Scarabs run into Barberton, the lone unbeaten remaining in the Class AAA field, in the John Carroll University Regional. East Tech is 19-2 and Barberton 22-0.

Ready, whose three losses in 22 games all have been to Class AAA powers, takes on a young Wellsville team in the Steubenville Regional. Wellsville carries an 18-4 record.

Indian Valley South risks the state's longest winning streak of 48 games against Portsmouth Notre Dame, 18-4, in the Athens Regional.

The Tuscarawas County power has brushed aside 22 straight opponents this winter after going 26-0 in its championship year in 1972.

Meanwhile, Marion Pleasant moved a step closer to a sweep of the 1972-73 small school state titles Thursday night.

The Spartans, who won the Class A football playoffs last fall, eliminated West Liberty Salem 65-50 and Pitsburg Franklin Monroe whacked Cincinnati St. Bernard 76-67 in the Dayton Regional.

David Mauk, who played on Pleasant's 1971 state basketball semifinalists, pumped in 23 points to lead the Spartans to their 23rd straight victory this season.

Kim Curtis' 17 points paced West Liberty Salem, finishing with a 17-6 record.

Franklin Monroe, 22-3, who will face Pleasant for the Dayton regional title Saturday night, mastered St. Bernard behind Mike Cross' 21 points.

Frank Monterosso fired in 23 points for St. Bernard, out with an 18-7 record.

In the Bowling Green Class A Regional, unbeaten Wapakoneta St. Joseph posted its 25th verdict, overturning unheralded Holgate's 41-31 halftime lead.

St. Joseph, led by Ted Hemleben's 20 points, outscored Holgate, 7-15, 24-6 early in the second half to advance against Mansfield St. Peter's in the BG finals Saturday. Tim Smith had 18 for Holgate.

The Washington C. H. Sertoma Club's annual free throw shooting contest will be held at 12:30 p.m. Sunday at the Washington Junior High gymnasium, according to Mike Kelley.

Kelley said the contest is open to all boys in Fayette County ages 8-12.

Bobby Knight top Big Ten cage coach

CHICAGO (AP) — Bobby Knight, who directed Indiana's Hoosiers to their first undisputed conference title since 1958, has been named Big Ten Basketball Coach of The Year.

The first such annual recognition was announced yesterday by Commissioner Wayne Duke, who reported Knight was a clear-cut winner in a poll of 40 Midwestern sports writers and broadcasters.

Indiana, tabbed in preseason ratings for a fourth-place finish, wound up with an 11-3 conference record and 19-5 overall, placing No. 6 in the final Associated Press national rankings.

Knight, 32, in his second Indiana season, successfully gambled with a youth experiment as he blended freshmen Quinn Buckner and Jim Crews and sophomore Steve Green with veterans Steve Downing and John Ritter for a winning combination.

Knight came to Indiana from Army where his team had a 102-50 record. He has an overall 138-63 record.

Knight won the award by a wide margin over runnerup Fred Schaus, Purdue's new coach. Third was Minnesota's Bill Musselman, whose dethroned Gophers were knocked out of a title tie with Indiana in a last-game upset by tail-end Northwestern.

Fourth was Harv Schmidt, whose Illinois team finished in a third-place tie after being picked to finish ninth.

Long Beach, Marquette surprised

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"I'm just sick," said Jerry Tarkanian of Long Beach State.

"I guess I've just lost the old zip," said Al McGuire of Marquette.

Both coaches weren't in the best of health after taking upsets in the NCAA basketball playoffs Thursday night.

As a matter of fact, their teams didn't look too good either. The University of San Francisco stopped Tarkanian's 49ers 77-67 in the West Regional semifinals and Marquette suffered a 75-69 loss to underdog Indiana in the Mideast.

San Francisco thus earned a short at defending national champion UCLA in West finals tomorrow. The top-ranked Bruins won their semifinal test with a 98-81 triumph over outgunned Arizona State.

Indiana's triumph set up a Mideast final with Kentucky, which trimmed Austin Peay 106-100 in overtime in the other semifinal game Thursday night.

Maryland and Providence moved up with triumphs in East Regional semis and Memphis State and Kansas State did the same in the Midwest.

Maryland drubbed Syracuse 91-75 and Providence turned back Penn 87-65. Memphis State crushed South Carolina 90-76 and Kansas State upended Southwestern Louisiana 66-63.

Mike Quick who scored 25 points to pace USF's stunner over third-ranked Long Beach, predicted a knockout of UCLA in the West championship game.

"We are confident we can beat UCLA if we play together as a team," said Quick.

Sparked by Steve Downing and John Ritter, sixth-ranked Indiana trimmed No. 5 Marquette and prompted these comments from Warriors' Coach McGuire:

"Indiana was the better ball club tonight. They beat us on the boards and they had us in foul trouble in both halves. They were well coached and never lost their poise.

"I didn't do a good coaching job. I wasn't quick. Maybe I just lost the old zip tonight. That happens sometimes."

Downing poured in 29 points as the Hoosiers rallied from a 10-point deficit with 14 minutes left in the game. Ritter delivered some clutch points in the stretch that sewed up the game up for Knight's boys.

UCLA, meanwhile, charged to a 51-37 halftime lead over Arizona State behind Larry Hollyfield's 18 points and breezed to its 72nd straight triumph.

Austin Peay took a 96-92 lead early in the overtime before Kentucky reeled off eight straight points, four by Kevin Grevey. Then Jim Andrews scored the go-ahead basket for Kentucky with 2:21 left as the Wildcats won their 10th straight game.

Kansas State used an effective slowdown game and the outside shooting of Ernie Kushnyer and Lon Krueger to defeat Southwestern Louisiana. Larry Kenon's 34 points powered Memphis State past South Carolina.

Maryland staggered Syracuse with 12 straight points early in the second half and went on to an easy victory over the shorter Orangemen. Providence hammered Penn's Ivy Leaguers as Marvin Barnes scored 20 points and Ernie DiGregorio and Nehru King 18 each.

In the NCAA College Division tourney at Evansville, Ind., Kentucky State edged Brockport 96-90 and Tennessee State blasted Assumption 106-76 to advance to Friday night's finals.

In the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics quarter-finals at Kansas City, Maryland-Eastern Shore beat New Orleans Xavier 87-80; Slippery Rock defeated Wisconsin-Green Bay 60-58; Guilford, N.C., edged Westmont, Calif. 70-67 and Augustana, Ill., whipped Oklahoma Baptist 63-46.

11 lettermen return for Panthers

Pitching, defense bolster MT's 1973 baseball hopes

By MIKE FLYNN
Record-Herald Sports Editor

A strong pitching staff, sound defense and a handsome stable of returning veterans hold the keys to Miami Trace's baseball fortunes for the 1973 season.

Coach Dave Pellior, a Capital University product who has stacked up a 29-17 all-games record in three seasons as the Panther baseball taskmaster, has a nucleus of 11 returning lettermen in hopes of improving on a 6-8 all-games and 5-5 (third place) finish in the South Central Ohio League race a year, and making the Panthers a strong contender in the 1973 title chase.

"A fine group of athletes with tremendous desire and fine senior leadership," is the way Pellior sums up his fourth Miami Trace edition which will embark on a bulky 25-game schedule March 26 at Jamestown Greenview. He schedules a double header with Lancaster April 19.

A CLASSY pitching staff featuring three returning vets appears to be Miami Trace's strength in hopes of capturing its second SCOL title in three season under Pellior's guidance.

Pete Jones, a hard-throwing senior righthander, heads the talent-loaded Miami Trace staff which leaves few puzzles for the 1973 season. Jones owns a 13-3 career record and a 2.25 earned run average.

Jones, a three-year letterman who landed an all-SCOL first term berth as a sophomore, posted a 2-2 record a year ago with a 2.43 earned run average. Randy Reiber and Dave Arnold, both one-year letter-winners and juniors, join Jones as other experienced Panther hurlers. Jones will also see outfield duty.

Reiber, who will double in the Miami Trace infield, had a 2-3 pitching record and neat 1.49 FRA a year ago, while Arnold, who will also see action in the infield, won the team's most valuable player award after notching a 2-2 record with a 2.67 ERA.

THE SEASONED mound will be joined by promising sophomore twirler Tom Riley, who spun a no-hitter in Fayette County Babe Ruth League play last summer.

But, pitching will be not Miami Trace's only strangth as Tony Grooms, a three-year All-SCOL whiz, returns to the second base spot. Grooms, a senior and another three-year letterman, swatted a smart .367 in 14 games a year ago and hit .350 against SCOL teams.

The 5-foot-9, 175-pounder owns a .351 career batting average and .882 fielding percentage. He has been clocked at 3.6 in the 30-yard dash.

Fleet-footed outfielder Jeff Spears joins the star-studded cast. Spears was an All-SCOL choice a year ago and has won two varsity letters.

Other letter-winners who figure highly in Pellior's strategy are senior first-sacker Muff Jones, senior pitcher-infielder Terry Smith, junior catcher Steve Deere, junior outfielder Dan Jones and junior outfielder Randy Kirk.

GROOMS, Pete Jones, Spears, Arnold,Muff Jones, Deere and Reiber were all regulars a year ago. The Jones bothers, Spears, and Reiber are still involved in the Class AAA Regional basketball tournament.

Players who captured reserve baseball awards last season and are top varsity prospects are Mike Coe, Jeff King, Steve Tarbutton, John Woodrow, all juniors and sophomores Jay Mossbarger, Tom Pfaff and Riley.

Joe Henry has an 18-player reserve team which will compete in a 13-game schedule this season. Sophomores are Kevin Dunn, Ken Hellenthal, P. R. Marshall, Robert Phillips, Tom Reisinger, Phil Skinner, Kent Smith, Jeff Smithson, Mark Spears and Robin Zurface. Freshman are Kurt Brown, Gregg Cobb, Alan Conner, Ken Darling, Gary English, Jack James, Terry Rodgers and Jeff Ruth.

Taylor Wildcat candidate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Northwestern Athletic Director Tippy Dye acknowledges that Ohio State basketball mentor Fred Taylor is a prime candidate, but Dye won't say he is No. 1 for the vacant Wildcat coaching job.

"I think he's interested or he wouldn't have been here," Dye said Thursday of an interview with the dean of the Big Ten coaches earlier this week.

Northwestern is in the market for a new coach since the resignation Monday of Brad Snyder.

"He's one of the top candidates," Dye said of Taylor. However, the Northwestern athletic boss would not say the 15-year Buckeye mentor was No. 1 in the eyes of the Wildcats.

Dye said the school was considering half a dozen other candidates, but would not name them.

Dye said, "He's the type we're looking for, a fine individual. He's one of the top coaches in the United States record-wise."

Taylor has coached his alma mater for 15 seasons, producing seven Big Ten titles or co-titles and a 264-109 record.

Taylor, the current president of the National Association of Basketball Coaches, was attending the NCAA Mideast Regional games in Nashville, Tenn., and was unavailable for comment.

The conference office listed the 5-11 Spartan junior's 14-game league average at 26.7, just behind his 1972 winning mark of 27.2.

JUST FOR FUN

BY: ROD RICH

The first V-8 engine was made in France, in 1907. But, in 1952, the "Rover", a two-seated roadster, made in England, features a gasturbine engine that boasted a top speed of 151.96 miles per hour.

Of course, speed isn't everything in an automobile, brakes are also quite essential and especially when excess speed is accessible.

In 1909, four wheel brakes appeared on the market, and as early as 1919, power brakes were being used.

For a new, exciting ride, go Honda. It gives ample speed for fun and reliable transportation and has powerful brakes to give you safe and easy stopping ability. What you want in style, beauty, dependability and roadworthiness, you will find in every model that Honda produces.

Baseball rookies take it on chin

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The rookies that bloom...and wilt...in the spring, tra la.

Craig Skok, a graduate of Florida State University, is a 25-year-old lefthander who led the International League last season with 15 wins.

He wasn't drafted, but was signed by the Boston Red Sox after being named most valuable player of the Schenectady, N.Y., Twilight League in 1969.

Thursday, it must have felt like the twilight zone as the Detroit Tigers unloaded on him for eight runs in the fourth inning of a 9-3 exhibition baseball victory. The onslaught included a grand slam home run by Willie Horton, a solo shot by Tony Taylor, run-scoring singles by Gates Brown and Al Kaline...and a missed fly ball by center fielder Reggie Smith which resulted in six of the runs being unearned.

Some other newcomers had better experiences to write home about.

Charlie Spikes, Cleveland's key acquisition in a big winter deal with the New York Yankees, slugged his second and third home runs of the spring in the Indians' 5-4 triumph over the Chicago Cubs. His first sailed over the 405-foot marker in left-center while the second, with a man aboard, shot past the foul pole 370 feet away. Oscar Gamble also homered for the Indians.

John Grubb singled home the winning run in the seventh inning to give the San Diego Padres a 5-4 decision over the San Francisco Giants. The rookie outfielder connected off Tom Bradley, who was tagged for three runs in the sixth inning and one in the seventh in his first appearance for the Giants.

The Cincinnati Reds trailed the Pittsburgh Pirates 9-2 in the third inning and were still down 11-7 when they came to bat in the eighth. But with two out, rookie Joel Youngblood cracked a two-run homer off Bob Miller and the Reds caught up before Miller got the third out.

They won it 12-11 on Dave Concepcion's home run in the ninth. Manny Sanguillen, Gene Alley and Dave Cash homered for the Bucs.

Young Andy Thornton, bidding for the Atlanta first base job with Jim Breazeale sidelined by an off-season auto accident, homered as the Braves won for the first time this spring, whipping the New York Yankees' 'B' team 9-1. Dusty Baker hit a three-run homer.

The Yanks' main squad, though, blanked the Minnesota Twins 5-0 behind the five-hit pitching of Mike Kekich, Lindy McDaniel and Fred Beene, a home run by Ron Swoboda and a two-run triple by Graig Nettles.

In other games Oakland edged Milwaukee 5-4, the Texas Rangers downed the Orioles 4-1, the New York Mets slipped by Los Angeles 6-5, Kansas City beat St. Louis 5-3, and Houston topped Philadelphia 11-7.

Fayette Airport News

By JUDY DENNIS

We have been blessed with beautiful Spring weather, and the students have really kept Bill flying. Following are just some of the highlights of the past two weeks.

Mrs. Helen Ogden of Kentucky visited our airport and rented a plane for some Sunday morning flying. Mrs. Ogden travels, and as her hobby, trys the fly at all the different places she visits. She stated she visited Hawaii, recently, and tried her wings in the tropical paradise. Mrs. Ogden was in Fayette County as the weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Kirk.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Pendergraft and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Thompson flew to Urbana for Sunday lunch, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith were also flying their Bonanza.

Keith Houghton received his instrument rating, and took off for his home at Tipton, Kas. Keith had been with us since November and went home with his commercial rating, multi-engine rating, instrument rating and instructor's recommendation. He plans to complete his flight test for his instructor's rating in Kansas.

Bill flight-tested Tom Preston and issued him a commercial license. Tom is now working on his instructor's rating and will go to Cincinnati for his flight-test the latter part of this month.

Rod Scott and Paul Rodenfels flew Paul's Cessna to Galion on business, and the Aerostar for the K-D Manufacturing Co. came in from Lancaster, Pa.

Bill flight-tested four students from other airports and issued them private licenses. The four were Ron Moore and Lester King from Greene County, Lester Rock, Madison County, and Bruce Hawk, Portsmouth.

Two gentlemen from Oregon stopped in to refuel their Tri-Pacer. They stated they had really covered a lot of territory flying from Oregon to Florida and Washington, D. C., before stopping here on their journey home.

Bob Sowers was doing commercial student flying with his little son, and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Mathias went on a short cross-country flight in our Cherokee. Deane Carter and Owen Prince each made cross-country flights in their jointly owned Skyhawk, and Roger Free, Frankfort, received an introductory ride from Bill in one of the trainers. Mr. and Mrs. Tim Vehenkamp also went for a Saturday afternoon flight in the Cherokee.

We enrolled Larry Hagler and Martha Rockhold as new students, and are happy to have them join the gang. They each have two hours flying time logged. Other students receiving instruction were Bruce Denen, Marilee Carter, Owen Prince and Deane Carter. Also, Jim Vess went on his dual cross-country flight with Bill, and then made the same trip solo, the next day.

Other students flying solo were Charlie Dodds, Louie Poole, Gary Meyers, Deane Carter and Owen Prince. Commercial students flying were Jack Patton, Ron Fitzwater, Tom Romph and Jim Roberds. We are also happy to report that Charlie Dodds passed his private pilot written examination and Jim Roberds passed his commercial written.

Fred Domenico and John Hardin sold their Cherokee 180, which went to Waverly, and Paul Stuckey's Apache was purchased by an Akron man.

Paul Wisecup and his children returned from a flight to Michigan, where they spent the weekend fishing, and Paul Crosby and Maurice Hopkins flew to Marysville on business. Eric Givens and Kathy Peterson of Frankfort went for a ride in one of our Cessans. Eric learned to fly while he was working as a line boy at our Ross County Airport. It was Kathy's first flight, and she stated she thoroughly enjoyed it.

Our weekend was somewhat marred by the emergency landing of a twin-engine mail plane, late Friday night. The plane experienced engine problems while flying from Cleveland to Lexington, Ky., and was advised by Dayton Radio to land at our field. The plane "bellied in" without the landing gear down, doing extensive damage. However, the pilot did an excellent job of bringing the plane in without injury to himself or the heavy load of mail he was carrying. We were notified of the accident at one o'clock in the morning, and Bill spent the rest of the night at the airport with the pilot awaiting the arrival of the postal authorities and Federal Aviation authorities.

This covers most of the flying news of the preceding days, so I'll wrap this up for now. It's been nice sharing our activities with you.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES
(March 21 to April 20)

Fine Mars influences stimulate your ingenuity and inventiveness; heighten your imagination. Much can be done on a day such as this! Don't fail yourself.

TAURUS
(April 21 to May 21)

Where you are not certain of your course, take time to gather more facts. Be sure you are not following "blind leads" or ill-informed persons.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)

Unexpected interruptions may slow you down a bit but, if you coordinate as you should, you will find the means to straighten everything out satisfactorily.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)

Be careful how you express yourself now. Reach conclusions in your usual logical, orderly manner. Your decisions could affect many; also your example.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)

A good period for branching out into new fields if your regular obligations allow you the time. On the personal side: romance and travel favored.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Influences fairly favorable. But don't consider all decisions made now as final. You may have to revise next week.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Stars suggest that you reach for highest attainment now, but don't set yourself an unreasonable schedule. Easy does it!

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Your judgment could be clouded by emotionalism. Postpone making important decisions until Monday.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Some restrictions where personal relationships are concerned. In mid-morning, especially, avoid discussions which could upset associates.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Friends will make demands on your time, energy and cash. Be wary. One who is especially aggressive may pose a real problem. Counteract with tact, poise.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Draw from your repository of creative talents to implement another's good idea. Someone of importance in the right quarters will assist you both.

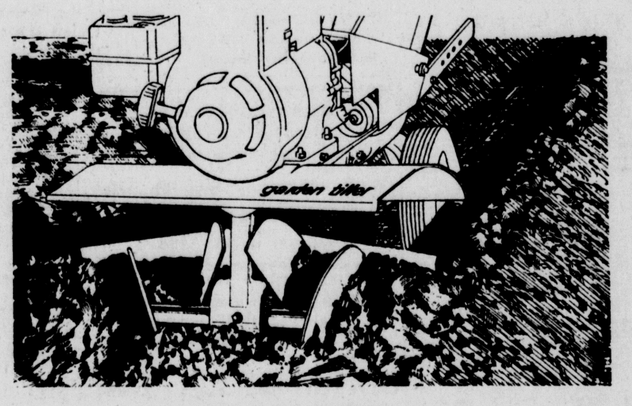

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)

An unexpected encounter with the "right" person brightens your prospects for attaining an almost "impossible" goal.

Speaking of Your Health...

Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Vitamin E and Its Hoopla

No one can tell us definitely if there is any validity to the claims being made about Vitamin E.

With all the rave notices Vitamin E gets in the papers and magazines, one would believe that it is the answer to all ills.

Is it?

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. W., Calif.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. W.:

Vitamin E is actually a group of vitamins known as "tocopherols."

This vitamin seems to have captured the attention of many enthusiasts, with and without proper scientific portfolio.

The highest concentration of Vitamin E exists in foods like nuts, wheat germ, lettuce, and some forms of beef.

The importance of Vitamin E to health is strangely recognized more by its deficiencies than by its value in nutrition. It is known that Vitamin E deficiency can affect fertility and changes within the uterus and the entire reproductive system.

There are these who are so entranced by the mystique of Vitamin E that they give to it almost supernatural powers, such as preventing and curing cancer, heart disease and psoriasis, delaying the process of aging, and restoring the virtility of the lost fountain of youth.

And these are but a few of the values ascribed to Vitamin E.

I do believe that a sensible composite vitamin supplement may be of value, especially to those whose diets are inadequate.

I do not believe, however, that there is any real scientific reason for such over-concentration on this vitamin whose value is yet unsubstantiated in the treatment and cure of recognized diseases.

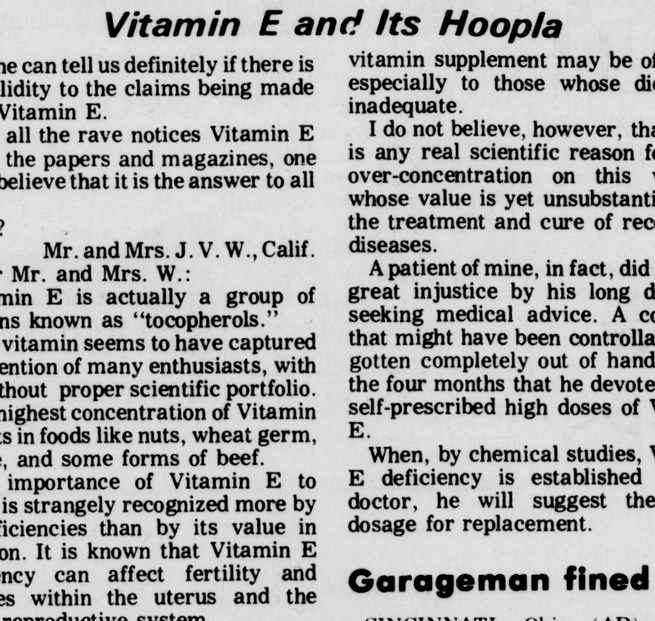

A patient of mine, in fact, did himself great injustice by his long delay in seeking medical advice. A condition that might have been controllable had gotten completely out of hand during the four months that he devoted to his self-prescribed high doses of Vitamin E.

When, by chemical studies, Vitamin E deficiency is established by the doctor, he will suggest the exact dosage for replacement.

Garageman fined

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— Ivan Deskins, 33, was assessed $400 in fines and $820 in court costs following conviction for falsely charging a couple $709 in car repair bills that were never performed.

Deskins was convicted in Hamilton County Municipal Court under a new Ohio law which prohibits an auto repair company from submitting a bill for work not done or material not supplied.

Contract Bridge ♠♥♦♣ B. Jay Becker

Test Your Play

1. You are declarer with the West hand at Six Diamonds and North leads the ace and another spade. How would you play the hand?

	♠ Q ♥ 8 2 ♦ AKJ10 5 ♣ AKQ64
♠ K54 ♥ AQJ6 ♦ Q92 ♣ 853	N W E S

2. You are declarer with the West hand at Three Notrump and North leads the king of spades. How would you play the hand?

	♠ AJ4 ♥ A74 ♦ KQ73 ♣ A10 9
♠ 82 ♥ 632 ♦ AJ5 ♣ QJ862	N W E S

1. The danger is that the clubs may be divided 4-1, in which case, if you were to discard a heart on the king of spades at trick two, you would very likely finish down one.

The best method play is to ruff the second spade lead, draw trumps and play the A-K of clubs. If both opponents follow suit you have the rest of the tricks, but, if etiher opponent shows out on the second club lead, you still have a heart finesse or two to fall back on to save the day. Thus, you would make the slam by the suggested line of play if North held:

♠ A 10 9 8
♥ K 10 9 7
♦ 7 6 4 3
♣ 9

but would go down if you made the mistake of discarding a heart on the king of spades at trick two.

2. Win the spade with the ace, enter dummy with a diamond, lead the queen of clubs and finesse. If the finesse loses, ten tricks become certain, If the finesse wins, repeat it. This method of play succeeds regardless of how the clubs are divided.

If you were to duck the king of spades — a play often made in similar circumstances — you would be courting disaster. Thus, suppose North shifted to the jack of hearts — on which South played the queen. You would then be in danger of defeat whether or not you took the queen, and could go down if North had the king of clubs.

You can guarantee the contract against every possible contingency by winning the opening spade lead. That is a good enough reason for taking the first trick.

2 persons injured in car-truck crash

A Washington C. H. couple was injured Friday morning when their car traveled left of center and collided with a truck on U. S. 35 at the Ohio 753 interhchange, the Sheriff's Department reported.

The crash was one of six investigated locally by police and sheriff's deputies.

Injured in the 6:15 a.m. crash were Juanita M. Deering, 57, of 1027 S. Main St., driver of the car, and her husband, Howard Deering, 67. Mrs. Deering suffered a leg injury, and her husband received a lacerated forehead. Both were taken to Memorial Hospital where they were treated and released.

Investigating officers said the 1966 model Deering compact was southbound on U. S. 35 when it went left of center on a left curve. The car collided with the left side of a northbound truck driven by Dale W. Shumaker, 46, Bainbridge.

Shumaker and his son, a passenger in the truck, both escaped injury.

The crash caused heavy damage to both vehicles. Mrs. Deering was cited for driving left of center.

SHERIFF'S DEPUTIES charged Larry D. Funk, 19, Rt. 4, with speed excessive for road conditions Friday morning after his car ran off Parrott Station Road, hit two trees and clipped off a utility pole.

According to investigating officers Funk's eastbound car ran off the left side of the rain-slicked pavement as it came out of a slight curve and skinned two trees before ramming into the utility pole, snapping it off. The 1966 model car came to rest headed westbound.

Damage to the car was heavy.
